Hospital ground-breaking

St. Elizabeth Hospital will break ground for its ancillary building on Thursday, May 25, at 7 p.m. on the hospital grounds.

The public is encouraged to participate in the ceremony and celebration, hospital authorities said.

Guests will include St. Louis Football Cardinal Dan Dierdorf, Ronald McDonald, Six Flags characters, Shriners' Krazy Klowns, Granite City North High School Miners and area civic leaders.

Beginning at 6 p.m., children can be made up in clown faces by the Granite City North High School Miners. A magic show will commence at 6:30 p.m. Official ground-breaking ceremonies will begin at 7 p.m. The ancillary building will create a new main entrance and lobby and will expand x-ray, storeroom, emergency room, business office, admitting offices and the departments of safety and security, social service, public relations, pastoral care and coffee and gift shop.

Space provisions have been made for pharmacy, respiratory therapy and out patient service. The one-story structure to be affixed to the Doctor's Wing is part of an $18 million renovation and construction program at the local hospital.

Completion of the ancillary building is expected in the summer of 1980.

Deer leads long chase

A deer in Granite City Sunday morning led police on a chase which ended with one squad car damaged as it spun into the Nameoki Ditch near Clark Avenue.

Officers first were told at 10:15 a.m. Sunday that a deer was hitting against plate glass windows in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center at Schnucks, Central Hardware and other stores, and striking cars and jumping over them. There was an unofficial report that someone was knocked down by the animal.

The deer then ran across the shopping center's parking lot to the Hodge Agency, butting that window and leaving blood on it, and then ran across Nameoki Road to the area of Chouteau Drive and Lydia Lane. None of the windows was broken.

It next ran to the Nameoki drainage ditch, where officers caught up with the deer and followed it until humane officers could arrive.

During attempts to follow the deer along the right-of-way at the top of the ditch, the patrol car of Patrolman Steve Willard struck a manhole cover which stuck up about nine

By SUE ROMANITIS

In the early evening last Tuesday, St. Elizabeth Hospital associates were called upon to execute a fire safety plan that normally means only rehearsal 12 times during the year.

Human experience of that plan of preparedness prevented tragedy, according to registered nurse DeAnne Chenault, night supervisor on duty at the time of the emergency.

Without a plan, pulling a fire alarm could be the same as activating a panic button.

"There was no outbreak of panic or hysteria. Associates did what was expected of them and the public is to be commended for waiting so calmly. This is invaluable as a warning to other institutions—know your fire and safety program, and drill it," Mrs. Chenault said.

A mattress fire on the third floor of the hospital's Binney Wing May 9 destroyed one room and caused extensive smoke damage to the rest of the floor.

Five persons were hospitalized; seven others were treated in the emergency room. 17 patients from five floors of the hospital were evacuated.

It was not the fire itself, but the extreme density of smoke that posed the greatest threat, Mrs. Chenault said. Had the evacuation not gone as smoothly as it did, there could have been casualties, she said.

"I couldn't believe 3-Binney when I arrived at the entrance to the unit. I remembered saying to the firemen and policemen, 'Dear God, is everyone out of there,'" said Mrs. Chenault, who reported that that floor after notifying and instructing all units through the emergency fire line at the hospital switchboard.

Instructions were dispensed calmly and carried out without hesitation, she said. The response to the hospital's crisis was phenomenal; volunteers poured in to assist as needed, units not directly affected maintained floor routine and were still ready on "standby" alert, and the police assisted both inside and outside the hospital, Mrs. Chenault recalled.

Venice schools face 'second-year' loans

Venice School District may have to issue second-year anticipation warrants in the 1978-79 school year in both the educational and building funds to keep the district operational, board members learned Thursday night.

A loss of $5.5 million in assessed valuation this year alone will lose an estimated $187,000 in tax money to the Venice schools in 1978-79, Supt. of Schools Robert E. Vickers said.

A decrease of $145,000 in the education fund taxes is equal to salary expenditures for 2½ months, he noted.

The financial problem was reported at the same time the board was informed that the new 1977 tax rate upon which tax collections will be made this summer has been set at 3.582 per $100 assessed valuation.

This is an increase of 9.5 cents over last year's rate of $3.487 per $100 valuation, with all of the hike in the municipal retirement account where the rate increased from 9.4 cents last year to 14.5 cents, and in the bonds and interest fund where this year's new rate is 10.7 cents, up from 14.67 cents.

The breakdown of the 1977 rate includes $2.65 for the educational fund, 37.5 cents in the building fund, 12 cents in the transportation fund, 5 cents in the working cash fund, 5 cents in the liability insurance fund.

All of these were unchanged from last year. The educational, building, transportation and working cash fund rates are all at the maximums allowed by state law.

The Venice board authorized $525,000 in anticipation warrants earlier this year against this year's tax collection. This amount may not be borrowed next year due to the lower assessed valuation, Vickers said.

So far, $300,000 of the anticipation warrants has been spent and at least $450,000 of the $525,000 total will be needed before the current fiscal year ends, the administrator said.

The final amount from the building fund anticipation warrants, totaling $80,000, was used to meet Friday's payroll.

Fred Pierce, representing Illinois School Consultants, Naperville, Ill., a private firm specializing in school financial programs, discussed services available to districts through his company.

The firm has assisted both the Collinsville and Cahokia school districts with referendums and worked with the Madison district in last year's bond issue to build a new school.

Board members agreed to review several proposals offered by Pierce to help alleviate the district's serious financial position.

Begin sewer job

After years of planning and work, ground was broken at 9 a.m. today for construction of sanitary sewers through Nameoki and Chouteau townships and a portion of Venice Township.

The groundbreaking took place at the Great River Road (now Route 3) and North Street in the Bloodworth Subdivision with representatives of the Madison County Special Sewer Committee, of the townships involved and of the G. H. Sternberg and S. M. Wilson construction firms taking part. The Sternberg-Wilson firms submitted a low bid for the construction work in 1976 and have stood by the bid, despite inflation in the costs of material and labor.

The total project is to be funded by a $12.6 million grant from the federal and state Environmental Protection Agencies, and by $5 million in local general obligation bonds to be repaid through taxation of persons residing in the area to be served by the new sanitary sewers.

The use of general obligation bonds generated a lawsuit by some township residents which delayed the project more than a year, but the Illinois Supreme Court Jan. 26 declined to hear the appeal, upholding the Appellate Court ruling in favor of the sewer construction project.

Residents of an area described as "special service area one" will begin repaying the bond principal and the interest during tax collections in the summer of 1979.

The new sanitary sewers will serve several populated areas, including Pontoon Beach and Mitchell, and will provide additional incentives for industrial, commercial and residential development in Nameoki and Chouteau townships.

Construction is expected to take about two years, but some sections of the system may be in SCHOLARSHIPS. Winners of three scholarships awarded by Granite City Local 743, American Federation of Teachers, are congratulated by Sheryl Evans, left, co-chairman of the local's Scholarship Committee. Students from left are Joan Fabisher and Tammy Hartzel, both whom will attend St. Louis University, and Susan Cann, who will study at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Grants to five students currently in college were renewed by Local 743.

Special on treasure find on Channel 9

A treasure-laden Spanish galleon sank in a fierce hurricane off the Florida Keys in 1622. Now, three-and-a-half centuries later, after a grueling seven-year hunt, Mel Fisher, an ex-diving shop owner is bringing the Atocha's millions to the surface.

Treasure! a National Geographic Special, documents Fisher's search at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 20, 1:30 p.m. Thursday, June 1, 9:30 a.m. and 9 p.m. Saturday, June 3 on KETC Channel 9. E. G. Marshall hosts the special and Alexander Scourby narrates. Obsessed by the lure of treasure, (in 1983) Fisher staked all he owned on a find. In California, he sold everything and took his family and crew east to Florida. He joined a salvage company, agreeing to work without pay for a year — or until they found treasure. Within a year he did find treasure — the salvors struck a pocket of gold from Spanish ships wrecked in 1715.

When these shipwrecks began yielding less and less, Fisher turned his attention to the Atocha, known to have been carrying cargo of immense value. Armed with information gathered in Spanish archives, he moved from Fort Pierce, Fla., to the Florida Keys. After fruitless searching, Fisher received new information from the Spanish archives, and moved his salvage vessels again to an area called the Quicksands, ten miles west of the Marquesas Keys. Here, his years of tedious search were rewarded. Divers brought to the surface a musket ball, an anchor, three lengths of gold chain, and even a flood of silver coins. But although they were interesting, none of these proved Fisher had found Atocha.

Then on July 3, 1973, Fisher's teenage son and another diver came upon a startling find — a silver bar. Looking much like a loaf of bread, it weighed the serial number 4584, weight 125 marks, 3 ounces, or a little more than 6½ pounds. They had found the Atocha!

GC Teachers local awards scholarships

Granite City Local 743, American Federation of Teachers, this week announced the recipients of three scholarship grants, presented annually to senior year high school students.

Sheryl Evans and Andy Yurko, Local 743 Scholarship Committee co-chairmen, said scholarships also will be renewed to five previous recipients who are currently enrolled in university and whose academic records are in good standing.

The 1978-79 scholarship winners are: Joan Fabisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William (Virginia) Fabisher, 2571 Pontoon Road, who will study Accounting at St. Louis University. She is a North High senior.

Tammy Hartzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Dorothy) Hartzel, 2801 Fortune Drive, who also will attend St. Louis University, studying in the field of Medical Record Administration. She is a student at South High School.

Susan Cann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd (June) Cann, 3008 Pershing Blvd., who will enter the School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is a senior at South High.

Scholarships will be renewed for the 1979-80 academic year to Enid Cox, Patricia Fyalka, JoAnn Barco, Carol Atkinson and Mark Mason.

Members of Teachers Local 743 Scholarship Committee, serving with Miss Evans and Yurko, are Connie McGee, Pat Moore, Bill Watson, Don Riden, Larry Diak, Bob Burns and Harry Hemb.

PAUL F. SODKO

Sodko renamed to board of managers group

Paul F. Sodko, secretary-treasurer of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association, has been re-elected to the board of governors of the Financial Managers Society for Savings Institutions.

Sodko will serve a two-year term, representing District 10, which includes Southern Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. The election was announced by Lynn Felpe, president of the society.

The society is a 4,000 member professional organization of financial officers, controllers, treasurers, internal auditors and data processing managers of savings associations.

"Sodko's support of FMS national committees and local chapters, which carry on continuous programs intended to improve the business' accounting systems, auditing practices and internal financial management procedures, makes him an important addition to the Financial Managers Society's board," said Felpe.

Law commission board to meet

The board of directors of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Spartan House Restaurant, South St. Louis Street, Springfield, May 17, 8 p.m. on Wednesday, May 17. All board of directors meetings are open to the public.

McPike backs school tax limit

State Rep. Jim McPike (D-56th), of Alton, said Friday he will strongly support legislation proposed by Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael J. Bakalis to put a legislative limit on local property taxes for schools and, at the same time, mandate state government to adequately fund local school districts.

"Gov. Thompson and my Republican colleagues should equally support these measures," McPike said. "They are excellent proposals, workable, and urgent to every taxpayer."

McPike added that one of the key Bakalis proposals, HB 3187, would limit local tax increases for education to no more than 3 percent per year except in special circumstances.

Because all other tax ceilings would also remain in force, McPike noted, only gradual and controlled tax growth would be allowed for educational purposes.

"In the last 10 years, McPike said, "total property taxes for schools have increased by about $1 billion, almost doubling the local tax burden in just one decade. Translated into terms that everyone can understand, it means a $91 increase in the annual property tax bill of every man, woman and child in Illinois."

"The Bakalis proposal would, for the first time, put a halt to the sudden surges in school taxation that occur when property values are inflated and assessments are revised upwards."

McPike said he also will work hard for passage of a second key Bakalis proposal (HB 3186) which would require the state to increase school appropriations 8 percent each year and fully pay the costs of such mandated programs as special education and pupil transportation.

"The Bakalis guidelines will not only apply realistic controls to educational spending that will protect taxpayers, but at the same time will provide our school systems with replacement revenues from state sources without increasing taxes."

"This approach, most assuredly, makes school funding and property tax relief the state's top priorities and I know of no other greater concerns to taxpayers at this time," he said.

McPike said the Bakalis proposals could be accomplished without any increase in state taxes by shifting non-essential spending in the governor's budget to the educational sector.

He added that there are currently some 2,500 proposed new jobs and other positions which have been vacant for four months or more which add up to $31 million annually.

At the same time, the state plans to spend another $31 million in such non-essential areas as vehicle rentals, travel, consultant contracts and even dues and membership fees routinely paid by the state for many employees.

McPike said the Democrats in both the House and Senate will attempt to shift $31 to $42 million of the $62 million new and vacant jobs and non-essential fund requests to education.

"The funds we are seeking are only in the areas where increases have been requested. The present level of services to the public will continue as they are now," he added.

"So rest assured that no hardships will be worked upon any state agency or the ability to provide essential human services."

'Phase III' program at 'Y'

The local "Phase III" program will be presented at the Wednesday Community Services meeting by Leigh Holmes, according to Barbara Kent, social worker.

The program will be held beginning at 8 a.m. at the Tri-City YMCA, 2001 Edison Avenue. Program chairman is Larry Miller of the United Way labor staff.

Envisioned as a method for sharing and updating human service programs available to people in the community, the program also will feature a special segment for general announcements by participants who have had changes, reductions, or new services occur.

"We believe our programs will be informative and helpful to others. It is surely our desire to make them so," Barbara Kent said.

Overnight mail service expanded to 725 cities

Granite City area residents can get overnight mail delivery to more than 725 cities with Express Mail, the Postal Service's new guaranteed, expedited delivery service, Postmaster Herbert Backs announced Friday.

"Express Mail became an official class of mail last October 9," Backs said. "Since then, we have been steadily expanding the number of cities area customers can reach."

Express Mail began as an experimental overnight delivery service in 1970 between five cities and Washington, D.C. and is now available from most metropolitan areas in the country. Its delivery record during the years of testing has been outstanding with more than 95 percent of all shipments delivered on time and over 99 percent delivered within 24 hours.

"Locally deposited Express Mail shipments meet our guarantees more than 98 percent of the time," Backs said. But if it doesn't perform as promised, the entire postage amount can be refunded, unless the delay was caused by strike or work stoppage.

Backs said other Express Mail features include mailing items weighing up to 70 pounds, merchandise insurance up to $500 and document reconstruction insurance up to $50,000 at no additional charge.

A customer can, for example, combine letters, merchandise, and business records in a single shipment. There is no extra charge for letters sent as part of the shipment.

The Express Mail post office in this area is located at 2350 Madison Ave. International Express Mail Service is also available, Backs said. Postmaster Backs urged customers to contact the post office for complete details on the local availability of Express Mail.

Registration for sewing class set

Registration for sewing and crocheting classes will be accepted from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Wednesday, May 17, at the West Madison Memorial Center, 900 W. Washington St., Madison.

There is no fee for the lessons and classes will be arranged after registration depending on the number of interested residents.

Miss Ethel Winston will serve as instructor for the sessions, it was announced.

Proud record by GC and GC Steel—Price

Remarks by Congressman Melvin Price of this district Friday in the Congressional Record:

"Mr. Speaker, this year the residents of my district are celebrating a very special event: the 100th anniversary of the founding of Granite City Steel.

"This company has developed in these hundred years from a small sheet metal shop located near the riverfront in St. Louis, Mo., to a fully-integrated mill which is a division of the National Steel Corporation, one of our nation's largest steel companies.

"The people of the 23rd District are celebrating not only the founding of a major industry, but also the spirit of growth and achievement which this industry exemplifies in our area.

"The Niedringhaus family which began the mills furnished our area with employment opportunities which were badly needed 100 years ago.

"Additionally, and equally as important, in the 1890s the family founded Granite City, Ill., at the site for its new mills.

"From this rather humble beginning has sprung the thriving Granite City which has become one of the most vital communities in Southern Illinois, and a city which I am proud to represent.

"Thousands of lines have been written and spoken dealing with so-called 'company towns' and the problems found in these localities. Granite City exemplifies the other side of the story: a city which benefited from the industry from which it grew.

"When the Niedringhaus purchased the land in 1892 they planted 14,000 trees on the land and added sidewalks, streets and a water system.

"Part of the land was set aside for a park, and special sites were preserved for schools and churches.

"More importantly, 100 brick houses were put up, and, to help protect the area from flooding, a perennial problem for flatland bordering the Mississippi River, a million-dollar levee was built between the city and the river.

"In the words of Hayward Niedringhaus: 'Even in an industrial town, where the wealth of industry might be necessary for the initial financing of the building of homes, stores, theaters, churches and schools, laying streets, installing sewers and utilities, even in such a city men should be able to own their own homes, to go into business for themselves, to elect the men who were to govern and police them, to run for office and get elected, to buy where they pleased, and to move away without obligation to the company for which they worked.'

"There should be — there must be — a business, a social, a political, a personal, an educational life which belongs to the masses of the people themselves," Niedringhaus concluded.

"With this type of philosophy, it is no wonder that Granite City took root in the area and flourished.

"Today, Granite City Steel is a major employer of residents of Granite City and the neighboring towns and is responsible for much of the growth experienced throughout Madison County.

"This year, the company looks back to its simple beginnings and celebrates a proud past.

"I join all the people of my district in wishing the company and its employees a happy birthday and look forward to watching its continued progress in the future."

Mrs. Johannigmeier dies

Mrs. Rosalia Johannigmeier, 60, of 1542 Lindell Blvd., died at 6:50 p.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been a patient for two days. She was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church and belonged to the Altar Society at the church, Our Lady of Fatima Circle 835. Daughters of Isabella, and the Granite City Unit, Madison County Homemakers' Extension Association.

Mrs. Johannigmeier was born in Meta, Mo., and resided in this area 28 years.

Survivors include her husband, George A. Johannigmeier, two sons, Gary J. and George Johannigmeier both of Granite City, and Karen Johannigmeier of Chicago; three brothers, Gerald and Norbert Huhmann, both of St. Louis, and Donald Huhmann of Overland, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. Raymond (Delphine) Lehmman and Miss Bernice Huhmann, both of St. Louis, and Mrs. Glenn (Clay) Walsh of St. Ann, Mo.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Boy alleges he was beaten

Richard Kamm, 31, of 2121 Edison Ave., was charged with battery after a 15-year-old boy was beaten in Kamm's front yard at 12:50 p.m. Sunday.

The boy, Clifton Gassett of 2148 Edison Ave., was playing with friends in that block and was ordered by a woman to leave the yard of the Kamm home.

Boy hit by car

Two and one-half-year-old Joan Beisel, St. Louis, was injured when he ran into the street in front of 2507 Grand Ave., and struck the left front fender of the northbound auto of James Coleman, 3219 Westchester Drive, at 12:10 p.m. Sunday, according to witnesses.

The boy was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for an abrasion to his right ankle and was admitted for observation of a possible head injury.

He said he believed he was off Kamm's property when a man came out, punched him in the eye and mouth several times, knocked him to the ground and then kicked his back.

Police noted the boy had a reddish eye, bruised face, swelling to his lips and a red area on his back. Kamm said he was removing the boy from his yard when the boy fell over a bicycle, injuring himself.

Kamm was arrested at 1:35 p.m. Sunday and was released at 2 p.m. after posting $35 cash bond.

Mopeds given

Catherine Ponce and Wally DeShon are being given "moped" motorcycles in connection with the Granite City High School South Letterman's Club's benefit activities for the Fehling Road baseball-soccer fields lighting fund. Charles Alfaro, a Nameoki School kindergarten pupil, participated in the selection.

Public tours at GC Steel

Granite City Steel will open its doors to the public Friday and Saturday with bus tours through the steel plant's facilities between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on both days.

The open house tours are part of the 100th anniversary of the founding of Granite City Steel, as the Granite Iron Rolling Mills in 1878.

Buses will depart at frequent intervals from the plant parking area on Lee Avenue, between 20th and 21st streets.

Visitors taking the in-plant bus trips will view operations at the blast furnace, basic oxygen furnace, blooming mill and 80-inch hot strip line.

A display of various raw materials and customer exhibits also will be open to the public at the conclusion of the bus tour, officials said.

The main tour through the plant will take about two hours.

Optional tours, also originating from the Lee Avenue parking lot, will be offered visitors to the new waste water treatment facility on Horseshoe Lake, officials said.

More than 8,000 persons attended the last public open house at the plant in 1974.

In observance of the company's 100th anniversary, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler has proclaimed Friday and Saturday, May 19 and May 20, as Granite City Steel Days, and called upon "citizens to join in saluting Granite City Steel and its people in celebrating this Centennial event."

FALLS FROM LADDER

Nathan Gutfreund, 60, Clayton, Mo., an employee of Charles Todd Uniform Rental on Emree Street, was injured seriously when he fell about 55 feet from a ladder at the Todd firm at 2:20 p.m. Thursday, striking his head on concrete. He was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was examined and was transferred to Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, with head and possible back injuries.

GC school board has special meet

The Granite City Board of Education met at 8 a.m. Saturday in a special meeting at the board office, 20th and Adams streets, to discuss personal and other matters.

Board President Donald Stucke presided at the session. No action was taken at the meeting and further discussions will be held at the regular meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the board office.

STEREO, CB TAKEN
Tammy Edwards, 2258 Benton St., reported at 1:55 p.m. Friday that her car, parked near her home, was broken into by forcing open a vent window, and an eight-track tape player and a citizens band radio stolen. Police were told that 25 tapes also were missing. The stolen items had a total value of $344.

7 arrests in drug probe

Seven persons were arrested Thursday and Friday on warrants issued for the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGS).

MEGS Executive Director Richard Woods said the arrests

Queen Ester Dean and who will seek a hearing on that motion immediately.

"It is my idea to take her to trial as soon as possible and settle this thing," Byron stated.

He also noted the Illinois attorney general's office is seeking to have the Appellate Court decision studied by the Illinois Supreme Court and overruled.

Byron would not comment on the validity of a Granite City ordinance prohibiting the acceptance of bets for horse racing which will take effect Thursday, or on the effect of a restraining order issued by Madison County Associate Judge Philip J. Rarik Wednesday which prohibits Granite City officials from enforcing that ordinance pending a hearing on whether the city ordinance is patterned after the state law which has been held unconstitutional.

The Granite City chief of police said Friday he had not yet seen a copy of Rarik's restraining order and did not intend to honor it until he had been presented an official copy. Granite City police were under orders Friday to raid the Finish Line Express office here and arrest the person in charge, if they were seen accepting any bets, Veizer stated.

Venice Chief of Police Brawley said his department has followed instructions from the state's attorney's office "to the letter," which included allowing the office to operate unhindered while Byron was studying the Appellate Court decision.

While Granite City's plans were altered late Friday by the restraining order, Venice officers continued to watch the Finish Line Express office on Broadway, prepared to make an arrest if the office is opened and a transaction occurs.

Brawley obtained a warrant Friday morning for the arrest of one employee allegedly seen conducting business earlier Friday but the employee has not been seen since that time, he said.

If the employee is seen, the warrant will be served, charging her with gambling, he asserted.

Veizer said he plans to meet later today with City Attorney Lance Callis to determine if the city must follow the temporary restraining order, or if some action can be taken against the Granite City office.

He said Callis will prepare a city's answer to the restraining order for transmission to Rarik, who then must call a hearing to determine if the temporary order should be made permanent.

bring to 13 the number arrested as the result of a three-month undercover investigation into drug traffic in this area, aimed at curbing traffic in LSD, PCP (Angel Dust), and amphetamines (speed).

The arrests began Thursday in Alton with the arrests of Charles Skelton, 21, and Vicki Skelton, 22, of 1221 Main St., Alton. He was charged with two counts of unlawful delivery of a controlled substance and his bond was set at $50,000. She was charged with one count of the same offense and bond was $25,000.

Friday, the MEGS agents moved into the Quad-City area, aided by the Granite City and Ponton Beach police.

Turboing in Ponton Beach Friday were Gregory K. Snider,

23, of 4007 Park Lane, and John Barge, 21, of 4074 Breckenridge Lane, who also gave an address of 1207b Grand Ave. Both were charged with delivery of a controlled substance.

Also arrested Friday were Dennis P. Holland, 19, of 2033 Village Lane, on a warrant alleging delivery of a controlled substance; Robert G. Mathis, 19, of 2224 Adams St., possession of cannabis; and Jimmy Van Vleet, 20, of 1232 Edwardsville Road, charged with cannabis possession.

Woods said the current investigation is now "winding down" with the recent arrest and said he wanted to thank the Madison County state's attorney's office and the Granite City, Madison, Ponton Beach and Alton police departments for their aid in the 13 arrests.

Heavy rains, high winds hit area

Broken tree limbs and knocked over garbage containers apparently were all the Quad-City region had to show from the side effects of a tornado that skipped through the St. Louis metropolitan area into Macoupin County, Ill., Friday afternoon.

Granite City's network of warning sirens was activated at 4:10 p.m. Friday, moments after an apparent tornado passed down in Pleasant, Mo., and the tornado activity appeared to be heading toward Madison and Macoupin counties in Illinois.

High winds and heavy rain with some hail were experienced in this area until after 6 p.m. Friday. Winds gusting up to 50 mph continued throughout the bi-state metropolitan region Saturday.

Despite the sounding of warning sirens here, traffic now appeared normal for a Friday afternoon on major thoroughfares in Granite City, one observer noted.

Most motorists, obviously, failed to take precautionary measures upon hearing the emergency warning signals. Rainfall during the 24-hour period from 8 a.m. Friday until 8 a.m. Saturday measured 40 of an inch, according to the Chain of Rocks Canal Locks 27 in Granite City.

A total of 1.05 inches of rain fell in the 24 hours ending Friday at 8 a.m., and .05 of an inch was recorded between 8 a.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Sunday, with zero precipitation for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today.

No injuries resulted from the tornado activity in the Florissant area, where roofs were ripped from buildings in an apartment complex and about 12 private residences.

Winds estimated in excess of 50 mph caused damage at a trailer park in the Pestus, Mo., and a tornado touched down in Dixon, Mo., not far from the Lake of the Ozarks, tearing through a trailer court, damaging at least 22 mobile homes and injuring four persons.

Property damage estimated at $245,000 occurred at two farm homes and another house at Carlinville in Macoupin County, northeast of Granite City.

One man was cut by flying glass when he and his family sought refuge in a car inside the garage at their home. A funnel cloud was spotted in this area.

to 12 inches and was obscured by weeds.

When the car hit the cover, it spun around and went back into the ditch. The deer stopped in a back yard to rest after the accident, but a Doberman dog came up and bit it, causing the deer to flee again.

The deer was not seen again by officers, but residents reported seeing a deer a short time later in the 3000 block of Buxton Avenue, at Faith and Myrtle avenues, in the 2700 block of Madison Avenue and then in Wilson Park.

Residents of Benton Street near the park said the deer last was seen running through Wilson Park with a dog chasing it.

C. U. Richardson, 76, dies

Courtney Udel Richardson, 76, of Hillsboro, Ill., formerly of the Quad-City area, died at 8:25 a.m. Saturday at the Normandy (Mo.) Osteopathic Hospital.

He was born in Pong, Ill., near Mitchell, Ill., and resided in this community until 1940 when he moved to Hillsboro.

Mr. Richardson was employed as a tree trimmer for the Illinois Power Co. prior to his retirement.

He and his wife, the former Moore Smith who survives, were married in Granite City on April 15, 1922.

Other survivors include two sons, Raymond Richardson of Farmington, Mo., and Leonard Richardson of Troy, Ill.; one brother, Sam Richardson of Hillsboro, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Goldie Thornburg and Mrs. Ruth Townsend, both of Granite City; and Mrs. Edna Newman of Godfrey; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

World War II, he entered into farming with his father, Theodore Seibert, and later became active in auctioneering and real estate brokerage and appraisal.

A member of the St. Clair County Board of School Trustees for more than 20 years, he was a member of the steering committee which organized District 522 into a Class I Junior College District in 1966. That district included the pioneer of Southern Illinois two-year public colleges, Belleville Junior College, from which the district took its name.

Seibert served as first chairman of the BAC Board of Trustees from 1966 until April 1969. The initial bond issue was approved during his tenure. In the amount of $3,250,000, on April 13, 1968.

Seibert served on the BAC board until 1975, during which time the curricula of the college were developed and the physical plant was planned and brought to partial completion.

operation at an earlier date, planners say.

Among those taking part in the ground-breaking ceremonies this morning on North Street near Illinois Road 3 were: Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer; Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the special sewer committee; G. H. Sternberg, contractor; Robert L. Bennett, president of S. M. Wilson Co., contractor; County Board members A. W. "Cooper" Moore, Louis Whitall and Duke Partney; Morris Township Supervisor Chris Paschoff; Mayors Paul Schuler, Mike Sasyk and William "Mike" Ebersold.

Edward Juneau, engineer for Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab; Edward F. Reiske, executive vice-president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce; George Jettie, secretary to Congressman Melvin Price; Nick Hamilos, aide to State Representative Joe Luoco and

Charles J. Haggard, mayor of Rome, President Roger Higgins.

After quickly taking the patient from the area, Graves notified the hospital switchboard of the emergency conditions. In the meantime he had instructed an aid to place a wet towel at the bottom of the door.

Then, at a second check of the room he saw that "the bed was on fire from 'head to toe' and thick smoke had filled the room to about three feet above the floor," he said.

Second later, staff associates were arriving on the unit and evacuation procedures commenced on a full scale. Estimated elapsed time between fire discovery and evacuation of the unit, according to Graves, was less than 10 minutes.

Both Graves and Mrs. Chenault, who said she remained calm even after she returned home that night, still noted "an emotional release."

A friend upset at seeing me covered by black soot hugged me and said, "It's all over now. Everyone did a good job and everyone is going to be okay."

Volunteers

responded to assume other in-house duties for her, several doctors reported to the emergency room and even visiting parents of pediatrics patients offered to help transport children, she said.

The calmness was contagious. Reassured family members did not insist to see their relatives and no one created disturbances to distract people or staff from where they were needed.

Each person's composure helped assure patients that things were under control and then they would be taken care of," Mrs. Chenault said.

Only two isolated instances required attention, according to Mrs. Chenault, and those persons were attended to in removed areas.

Mrs. Chenault, who had served as a staff nurse for five years before earning a night supervisor position four years ago, said overall reaction was the most efficient she has witnessed to date.

"Our primary concern was to get everyone out of the area safely, let the professionals minimize the problems and then return the patients to their environment. I estimate that only an hour elapsed between the time of the sound of the alarm and the relocation of the patients to their units," Mrs. Chenault said.

Though there are countless others who deserve notice, the person responsible for initiating the proper action, according to Mrs. Chenault, was registered nurse Paul Greaves, who reported the fire at 5:48 p.m.

Greaves remembered being on the telephone at the time, his back toward the room where the fire began. He recalled someone saying something about smoke and when he turned, he saw light coming from the room.

It had been 15 minutes between the time he left the patient in the room and the time of the fire, he said.

He had detected the fire during a routine check on the patient within that period, he said.

"I entered the room in a matter of seconds, removed the patient who was lying face up on the floor, and immediately checked vital signs in the area once we were outside the closed door," Graves remembered vividly.

After quickly taking the patient from the area, Graves notified the hospital switchboard of the emergency conditions. In the meantime he had instructed an aid to place a wet towel at the bottom of the door.

Then, at a second check of the room he saw that "the bed was on fire from 'head to toe' and thick smoke had filled the room to about three feet above the floor," he said.

Soil preparation is good gardening

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser
According to the calendar, it's time to plant all of the warm season crops. But until the soil warms up, little or no growth will occur. You can overcome some of the growth delay by using some extra effort and good garden sense.

For example, don't work soil when it's excessively wet or the destruction of soil structure will retard growth. You can speed up drying by scratching the surface with a rake, tiller, or disk.

Use healthy, vigorous plants. Discarded, spindly, yellow plants will take time to recover, whereas good plants should begin to grow immediately. Over-sized tomato plants seldom have an advantage over stocky, vigorous young plants. If leggy tomato plants are used, set them more or less horizontal so that rooting will develop along the stem. Temporary shading will help some transplants overcome transplant shock on sunny days. This can be shingles, stakes, lath, or whatever else is handy, placed on the south side of the plant. Remove in three or four days.

Or, if the weather continues to cold, plastic or glass covers can be used for protection and heat accumulation. Plastic tents could be built to simulate greenhouse conditions. But be prepared to provide ventilation on a hot day.

Plastic, both clear and black, can be used to warm soil around plants. Clear plastic allows for greater soil warm-up, but allows weeds to grow and cause physical problems. Black plastic will warm soil too, and will smother weeds.

Warm soil is extremely important to crops such as peppers, eggplant, tomato, cucumber, and melons. The use of plastic mulches to increase soil temperatures should improve their early growth.

Conversely, avoid applying organic mulches such as straw until the soil is warm and growth is vigorous. So, to speed up growth and harvest, it's best to have good soil preparation, good plants, and use plastic mulches and/or protection.

CONGRATULATIONS* Granite City Steel on your 100th Anniversary!

First Granite City National Bank salutes the men and women of Granite City Steel Company who continue in the proud traditions established a century ago.

Our entire community, as well as First Granite City National Bank, owes a deep debt of gratitude to F. G. and William F. Niedringhaus, whose industrial genius, vision and daring provided the impetus from which sprang an industrial giant as well as a city. In the true American tradition, they risked their fortunes on a dream... then they made the dream come true!

Over the years, Granite City Steel Company has been the very cornerstone of our community, providing the anchor of economic stability necessary for continued growth and prosperity.

And, the men and women of Granite City Steel Company have always given generously of their time and talent in giving abundant support and leadership to all worthy community efforts.

CONGRATULATIONS... and thank you! May there be many more years of continued prosperous growth for your company and our city!

1878 to 1978

...two things stand out as Granite City Steel observes its 100th anniversary:

Granite City Steel produced an estimated 30 million tons of steel in open hearth furnaces from the first heat in 1896 to the final heat June 12, 1967.

The addition of this fourth slab heating furnace, completed in 1977, gave the 80-inch hot strip mill the capability of rolling about 20% more steel.

THIS PLANT HAS NEVER BEEN STRONGER, ITS PROSPECTS NEVER BRIGHTER, THAN RIGHT NOW IN 1978.

While Granite City Steel began in St. Louis in 1878 with the building of the Granite Iron Rolling Mills, it was moved across the river within a relatively few years to the location it has occupied ever since. There are few places in America where a city and a company have been as closely associated for so many years. The benefits have been mutual.

Granite City and other nearby communities have supplied generations of skilled, dependable people to run Granite City Steel. Their efforts have enabled Granite City Steel to grow and become the plant it is today—one of the best-equipped, most efficient steel mills to be found anywhere. Granite City Steel has supplied jobs, both in its own plant and at the plants of A.O. Smith and other manufacturers who have been attracted to this area because there is a steel mill here.

THE STEADY WESTWARD MOVEMENT OF POPULATION HAS MADE GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS, A GREAT CENTRAL LOCATION FOR A STEEL MILL.

As the years went by, the population of the United States has been moving west and south. The last census put the national population center in Mascoutah, Illinois, only a few miles from Granite City. Central location has obvious marketing advantages because industry in this country is also moving west and south. For example, a growing number of the manufacturers who supply auto assembly plants have moved into Granite City Steel's territory. Fan blades for automotive and industrial uses are now being made in Rolla, Missouri. A big new plant was built in Sedalia, Missouri, to make auto wheels and other parts. Mufflers are being made at Dexter, Missouri, and auto horns at Flora, Illinois.

Today 40% of U.S. industry is within 500 miles of Granite City Steel. Granite City Steel's production capabilities have been significantly enlarged since 1971 when it was merged into National Steel Corporation. National has invested heavily in various capital improvements including environmental control facilities.

Granite City Steel begins its second 100 years with the right facilities, the right products, the right location and the right people for continued success and growth.

Granite City Steel...and Granite City, Illinois

The city of Granite City was incorporated in 1896 and grew up around the steel plant. Many of the first settlers were immigrants from Wales, recruited for their skills in making steel. Even today when Granite City has a population of 40,000 the area is dependent on steel. One-third of the major manufacturing firms in the area are related to the steel industry. And the largest, employing 4,500, is Granite City Steel.

Granite City Steel has been a stable employer for a long time. There are employees today whose families have worked at the mill as long as four consecutive generations—or back to the year 1900. The employment roster starts alphabetically with George W. Abel, a hodcarrier in the Brick Department, and goes all the way to Judith M. Zwick, a package wrapper in the North Plant.

The average Granite City Steel employee is 40 years old and has worked for this one company 16 years. No other plant in the Tri-Cities has this level of skill and experience. Granite City Steel is the first choice of most residents of this area when they look for a job.

The relationship between City and steel mill has always been close—economically as well as geographically. In the words of a Granite City grocer, "Everybody relies on The Mill. That's the big payday."

And big it is. Wages, salaries and benefits for Granite City Steel's employees—more than half of whom live in the Tri-Cities—amount to more than $115 million annually. Another $131 million goes for steel mill purchases in the metropolitan area including freight and utility costs. Granite City Steel pays about 35% of the total property taxes collected in the City and Township of Granite City and 7% of the taxes collected in Madison County.

Good people are the vital ingredient in any enterprise and Granite City Steel could not have remained in business 100 years without generations of those kinds of people. Men and women—people of many races, creeds, skills and backgrounds—have contributed to the success of this steel mill. It has taken the combined efforts of laborers and millwrights, electricians and engineers, chemists, accountants, secretaries, mill operators, computer specialists, metallurgists, salesmen and many others.

☆ Public Invited May 19 & 20 ☆

Granite City Steel will observe its 100th Anniversary with a Public Open House next Friday and Saturday. There will be bus tours of the plant each day between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., starting at the parking lot on Lee Avenue between 20th and 21st Streets. Buses with tour guides aboard will leave the parking lot every few minutes.

Visitors will ride through the Blast Furnace Department and walk through the Basic Oxygen Furnace Shop, Blooming Mill and 80-Inch Hot Strip Mill. An optional tour will take visitors to the Granite City Steel Wastewater Treatment Plant near Horseshoe Lake.

Allow about two hours for the main tour including a stop for refreshments in an exhibit area... about 45 minutes for the optional tour.

BELLEVILLE — Granite City North managed two placegetters here Saturday and South could manage just one in the running of the Belleville East Girls' Track District Tournament, held in a sometimes driving and sometimes misting rainfall.

East St. Louis Lincoln won the meet, edging Belleville West, the host school even through the meet was held on Belleville East's all-weather track.

LINCOLN finished with 88 and one-third points, while West managed 53 points. East St. Louis senior was third with 35 and two-thirds points.

Belleville East had 22 points for fourth, Mascoutah had 21, Collinsville 17, Alton 11, Greenville 10, Edwardsville 8, Granite City North and Cahokia tied with 5 each, Belleville Alhorth, Wood River, O'Fallon and Highland had two each and Granite City South finished with one point.

NORTHERN North or South qualified anyone for state meet competition. The state meet will be held this Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20 at Charleston High School (NOT Eastern Illinois University).

NORTH's place-getters were Dawn Ford, third in the long jump at 16 feet, 11½ inches (state qualifying distance is 17-7), and the 800 and 400-yard relay teams. Each placed fifth, members of the Steelerettes.

800 and 400 yard relay teams are Rhonda Schilling, Dawn Ford, Clara Bates and Dana Ollis. The time for the 800 was 1:37.2 and the 400 time was 1:49.4.

SOUTH's lone point was scored when Laura Werth finished fifth in the 800-yard run in a time of 2:37.

Lincoln needed a win in the mile relay (the final event of the day), coupled with a West win in the 400-yard relay to win the state.

Lincoln's time in the mile relay was 4:03.7. East St. Louis was second in 4:05.0 followed by West in third at 4:10.1. West's squad was a study third-place finisher on the day to qualify for state.

Peggy Welle of Collinsville was the winner of the 800-yard run in 2:24.6. Brenda Ferkler of West finished second.

West's Mary Ford was upset in the discus by Lisa Ferry of Greenville. Ferry's toss was 123 feet, 5½ inches. Ford managed only 116.7.

IN THE 800-yard relay, East St. Louis was first with a time of 1:49.4, followed by West in 1:49.4.

Betty Smith of East St. Louis was the winner of the 100-yard dash in 1:11.3. Teri Finch of West was second followed by Lincoln's Riggins.

The 400-yard dash was won by Lincoln in a time of 1:00.6. East St. Louis was second in 1:00.8.

Danette Onyemeluke of Brown was the winner of the 100-yard low hurdles. Gwen Brown, also of Lincoln, was second.

The 400-yard relay was won by Lincoln in a time of 5:12.1. West was second in 5:18. Neither time was good enough for the state, but each squad will advance because of their first and second place showings.

Lori Schutzenhofer of East was one of two double-winners in the meet. She won the two-mile run in 12:12.4 and took the mile in 5:39.5.

THE 800-yard medley was won by Lincoln in 1:52.1. East St. Louis was second.

Brown came back and defeated her teammate Onyemeluke in the 200-yard low hurdles.

West's Jill Keume was the winner of the shot put at 43 feet, four inches.

FORD's third place in the long jump was preceded by two Lincoln jumpers, Jackie Joyner and Deborah Thurston. Thurston was first at 17 feet, 11 inches followed by Joyner at 17.4.

East St. Louis' Smith was the meet's other double-winner. In addition to the 100-yard dash, she also captured a first place in the 220-yard dash with a time of 26.8.

Linhart is ISU's MVP

BLOOMINGTON — Greg Linhart, three-year regular at second base for Illinois State University's baseball team, has been voted the most valuable player for the Redbirds.

It is the second such award for Linhart, who tied as the team MVP last season. He is a senior from Granite City and a graduate of South High School.

Linhart carries a .324 career batting average at ISU, and is among the team leaders this spring with a .365 mark. He led the team in batting as a sophomore with a .342 average.

Among other statistical highlights this spring, Linhart has been successful on all 16 of his stolen base attempts. He is one of the team's leading power hitters with nine doubles, three triples and five home runs this spring.

Linhart and his teammates closed the current season with a three-game series at Western Illinois on Friday and Saturday.

Coach Duffy Bass, who considers Linhart to be one of the finest second basemen in ISU history, calls the selection "a great choice."

"Greg has been outstanding all year," Bass said. "It was nearly a unanimous decision by the team that he is our most valuable player."

Regional action starts tomorrow

GRANITE CITY — IHSA regional baseball action gets underway, weather permitting, for quad cities teams tomorrow for the first time in a two-class playoff system.

This marks the first year that the baseball playoffs are being conducted in a Class A and Class AA system, such as is basketball.

Madison is the quad cities' representative in the Class A (750 enrollment or less) system. The Trojans begin their action at home tomorrow in a preliminary game for the "Freeburg Regional" against Belleville St. Henry. Game time is set for 4 p.m.

Thursday, Granite City North and South will begin their action in the South Regional.

South will be at Alton and North will play host to Roxana. Both games are set to start at 4 p.m.

The first round winners in each regional will gather at Freeburg (Madison) and South (North and South) for the final two rounds of the tourney.

Today, North and South will square off at South's diamond for a re-match of their April 22 tie game in the South Regional. Game time is set for 4 p.m.

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville golf team is one of three from a field of 120 District Four schools which have been picked to participate in the post-season national tournament scheduled for Lakeland, Fla., May 22-26.

In addition to the SIUE Cougar golfers of Coach Harry Gallatin, Western Illinois U. and Wright State U. of Dayton, O. have been selected for the national tourney.

Also honored are two individual players from the University of Minnesota-Duluth — Larry Opatz and Rich Kirby. The teams will be made up of five-men squads.

Four of the Cougars' slots are filled: Les Agne, Tim Gehrig, Dave Dean and Mark Hofstetter. The fifth berth will be decided in a playoff match between Guy Phillips and Steve Gower.

Said Gallatin: "We think very strongly that we'll beat our ninth-place national finish of last year. In fact, we'll be surprised if we don't finish in the top four, and for that matter, we are hopeful of winning it all."

The SIUE golf team is also one of 10 schools to be invited to play in the prestigious Western Michigan State University Invitational Tournament next Monday at Kalamazoo, Mich.

In addition to SIUE and the host school, the others are: Ashland College, DePaul University, Illinois State U., University of Michigan, Michigan State U., the University of Minnesota, Western Illinois U., and the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

It will be a 36-hole tournament.

The Cougar golfers of Coach Harry Gallatin will be shooting for fifth championship in seven tournaments they have participated in this year.

The top eight Cougar golfers are: Les Agne, Tim Gehrig, Dave Dean, Mark Hofstetter, Steve Gower, Jim Russell, Guy Phillips and Stan Samoska.

Agne has averaged 74.1 strokes over 21 rounds. Gehrig's 74.9 over the same 21 rounds places him second. Dean is third with a 75.3 stroke clip, and Hofstetter is fourth with a flat 76-stroke average over 21 rounds.

Rain, does it again

GRANITE CITY — The wonderful Southwestern Illinois State University baseball team proved to be a little too good for many of the area sports events, including all Granite City High School (North and South) baseball games as well as the Red Bud girls' track district which was to have been run Saturday.

Flooded jumping pits and "hard rain" at Red Bud, as well as "in Dupo, caused the girls' meet to be postponed. The Cahokia Conference boys' meet to be postponed. The Red Bud meet, in which Madison is expected to be a contender, has been re-set for today at 1 p.m.

Granite City South's baseball games (Thursday against Roxana and Saturday against Centralia) were postponed and will not be made up. South's next action will be Thursday at Alton in the first round of its own IHSA regional tourney. Starting time is 4 p.m.

North's game with Wood River Saturday was postponed. Plans are being made to play it Tuesday, however, nothing definite has been set. Also postponed were Mercer and Mitchell's doubleheaders in the Illinois Intercity Baseball League.

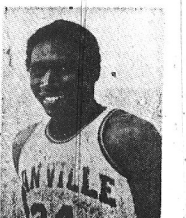

SIUE captures Danville's 'Baby J'

Jerome (Baby J) Nelson, a standout wing or swing man at either guard or forward for the past two years at Danville Junior College, has decided to enroll next fall at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, it was announced today.

Jim Dudley, SIUE cage coach who made the announcement of Nelson's signing, said, "Baby J can come right in and help us immediately. He's definitely a real ' sleeper," and a lot of fans and coaches, too, will be surprised at the high grade of basketball he's capable of playing."

At Danville Junior College, Nelson averaged 19 points a game as a freshman, but slipped slightly to 17 last season, while holding steady on the number of rebounds, he pulled down in both campaigns, 10 per game. From the floor, Nelson hit a 30 percent average. From the free throw line, he hit 77 percent of his tries. He led in assists both years for the Jaguars.

A native of Danville, the 6-3 Nelson played his prep basketball for Coach Denny

JEROME NELSON
Lewis. At Danville Junior College, his coach was Bill Small.

Drive launched to aid former Granite City wrestler's family

A benefit drive among Granite City wrestlers and fans, past and present, was announced today.

A spokesman said, "Granite City wrestlers and fans have experienced decades of proud tradition and camaraderie. Many of us have maintained our friendship with our wrestling team members of many years past, while other friends may have been forgotten."

"Something special seems to bind us together. What it is, we may not be able to place our finger on, but we know it exists. Somewhere we have picked it up through our close association with Granite City wrestling."

"One of our own needs our help desperately — Tommy Sparks. Tom wrestled for Granite City High School in 1964-77.

"He was an outstanding wrestler on the mat and has been an enthusiastic wrestling fan ever since. Once a Granite City wrestler or fan, always a Granite City wrestler and fan."

"At the present time, Tom's wife, Wanda, is critically ill with multiple sclerosis. They and their three children have been waging a courageous battle for almost three years. The odds have not been in their favor, but their will to win the match has never been in doubt. The emotional strain on their lives has been a burden they have faced with determination and hope."

"The additional financial pressure of extensive medical bills for special treatment and care in fighting this dread disease has taken its toll."

"At times, it seems that a situation cannot get worse. This is not the case for Tom. He was just recently hospitalized. "This has only added to the emotional and financial drain of the past three years and has helped to make the previous situation nearly unbearable."

"Please make checks payable to TOM SPARKS FUND and mail (no later than June 3) to: Tom Sparks Fund, Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, P. O. Box 373, Granite City, Ill. 62040."

JERRI WILSON

She hates to leave ...

But SIUE's Jerri Wilson knows she has to in order to reach her high goals

By KATHY SMALL
EDWARDSVILLE, This being the last season for several of the women's softball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, everyone will be sorry to see the seasoned veterans of the game leave. One of those leaving is third baseman Jerri Wilson, an Alton High graduate.

"I'm going to miss this place when I leave, but nobody can give me my career, I have to go out and get it. So when I leave, I'll grow from the experience," explained Wilson. A health and physical education major, Wilson plans to attend graduate school in either Arizona or Oregon.

Wilson explained that if she did not leave, she would never be able to fulfill her life's dream. "My goal is to be head athletic trainer at a large university and eventually I'd like to open my own clinic," said Wilson. Athletic training is a wide-open field for women, which pleases Wilson greatly, she added.

Wilson works under Cher Jobe, head trainer for the women's athletes at SIUE. "I enjoy working with Cher so much. I wish I could take her with me. She puts a lot of responsibility on my shoulders which makes me work harder,"

Wilson said.

As far as softball is concerned, the third baseman would like to continue playing after college. "I'd love to play professional softball. I'd have to be much more experienced, but I could do it if I got on the right team," she said. She is unhappy with the progress of the pro league, because she says it is beset with problems that "need ironing out. I wish the league would last. It could be really good."

Wilson has been playing fast pitch softball for about nine years and has tried every position except catcher. Her favorite is third base because "there's a lot of action there. It's the hot box."

Last year, Wilson was a .250 hitter, but this year she is experiencing some problems. "I'm doing badly, and I don't know what it is. I've never been below .200 until this year," she said. "Everybody tells me it's because I'm not grunting when I hit like I did last year. A few games ago I grunted and got a hit so I guess they're right," she continued.

Wilson feels she is up to par defensively. But offensively—"this is my last year, I have to do it, and it's like a cold slap in the face. But the most important thing is not to get down on yourself."

Wilson has great respect for head coach Cindy Jones. "She's a great coach. She's got the ability to communicate with athletes and gives everybody a fair shot. She's been here as long as the present seniors, and we've come a long way together," explained Wilson.

Wilson feels women's sports have grown tremendously at SIUE and that more and more people are supporting the program. "I'm proud to be a part of it all, and I want people to know we exist," she concluded.

Cougars ready for nationals

LOS ANGELES — Southern Illinois University's tennis team is on the west coast preparing for the national Division II tournament and things could be going better. Last weekend, the Cougars dropped a pair of matches to highly-rated Division I schools, UCLA and Pepperdine. SIUE is rated first in the nation among Division II schools.

The Cougars fell to second-ranked UCLA 6-3. SIUE's Juan Farrow was beaten by Elliot Telscher 6-3, 7-6. Cougar Arjun Fernando defeated John Austin 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. UCLA's Tony Graham beat Brian Miller 6-3, 6-2. Granite City's Billy Ruskick fell to UCLA's Bruce Nichols 6-4, 7-6. SIUE's Kent Smith fell to Fritz Buehling 6-2, 6-3 and Cougar Scott Waley lost to John Bayle 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

In doubles, Farrow and Fernando beat Plain and Gray 7-6, 6-4. Miller and Waley fell to Edwards and Graham 6-3, 6-3. Ruskick and Smith fell to Ed Edwards and Suresh 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Pepperdine is currently ranked fifth in the nation among Division I schools.

SIUE's record is now 25-7. The Cougars will face San Diego State today.

SIUE Coach Kent DeMars' squad now heads toward San Diego where it hopes to gain a national title in the NCAA Division II championships.

Five schools are given excellent chances of capturing the team title won last year by the University of California at Irvine squad. Irvine, incidentally, won't defend its title since the Antetuers decided to move up to Division I this campaign.

Right now, it looks as if DeMars and his Cougars have a slight edge over Nichols State of Louisiana, whose Chris Robinson is a world class player holding an international ranking of 92 among the men.

SIUE's season record is 25-5, while Nichols State is undefeated at 26-0.

Third school with a shot at the national crown is Florida Tech U. of Orlando, Fla., with a 19-2 record.

Hampton Institute of Virginia, the U.S. Division II champion two years ago, is ranked fourth and has standout Bruce Foworth of St. Louis, a senior, who is playing extremely well. Fifth, with a 16-14 record made against such powerhouses as UCLA, is the host tourney school the University of San Diego.

Bubblemasters top 27 clubs

The Midwest Dive Council's traveling trophy, awarded annually to the club accumulating the largest number of points in the season's first major diving meet, will remain in Granite City for the 1977-78 season.

Members of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club of Granite City outpointed 26 other clubs represented in the meet to retain possession of the coveted award.

About 130 qualified divers competed.

Presentation of the trophy has become a tradition since 1965, with clubs from Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Illinois vying for the honor.

This year's victory for the Granite Cityvans was by a comfortable 35 points over the nearest competing team — the Kansas City Frogmen — a club which dominated council dives for several years.

In 1977, the Bubblemasters first won the traveling trophy by a one point margin over the Frogmen.

The MDC's spring dive took place in the Highway 13 Boat Dock area on Table Rock Lake, Brandon, Mo.

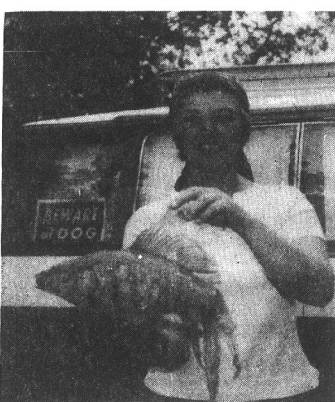

The two-day meet featured spearfishing, using skin diving equipment one day and scuba gear the second day.

A triathlon event, consisting of an obstacle course and underwater compass readings followed specific courses, also was part of the competition.

The weather conditions were poor and water temperature was 58 degrees, which proved "breath-taking" at first, even with the wet suits, Dee Adams, Bubblemasters president, noted.

Bubblemaster Ed Duffin won the first place trophy for most fish speared in skin diving and third place in the triathlon.

received individual trophies and whose points enabled the club to retain the traveling award, were:

Skin diving — Duffin, first, Dee Adams, third and Phil Lamm, fourth; most fish speared, and Rich Grizzard, fourth largest fish.

Scuba diving — Larry Eaney, first, Randy Viessman, second, Dr. Chris Geroff, third, most fish speared; Wally Marzull, second and Richard Grizzard, third, largest fish.

The Bubblemasters next large-scale dive will take place May 27 and May 28 at the Pontiac Boat Dock on Bull Shoals Lake.

Skin diving events will be held from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. and a compass course at 2:30 p.m. May 27.

Scuba competition starts at 9 a.m. Sunday, May 28.

Also Sunday, a children's fishing derby will take place between 9 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., with the younger catching the most fish receiving the Robin M. Smith Memorial Day Trophy.

The dive will conclude with a fish fry and presentation of trophies.

DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Anthony R. Guenther, 18, of 726 E. Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, was arrested with possession of marijuana, speeding and driving on a suspended license after police stopped his car on Nameki Road at Manley Avenue at 2:30 a.m. Friday. A bag of marijuana allegedly was found in his shirt pocket. Guenther was released at 2:30 a.m. Friday after posting $200 cash bond.

FACES THREE CHARGES

Timothy Indian Mound, Tenn., was arrested at 23rd Street and Washington Avenue at 11:30 p.m. Thursday and was charged with careless driving and disobeying a stop sign. Police alleged he was uncooperative while being booked and attempted to kick an officer, so force was used to put him in a cell and he also was charged with disorderly conduct.

Had no food, girl, 10, says after theft

A 10-year-old girl was questioned by police Saturday afternoon after the child was captured by a grocery store employee as she fled from the store with a stolen package of ham.

Police said they were called to Kozak's Market, 2600 Nameki Road, and were told the girl left the store without paying for the package and when she saw she was followed, threw the package under a truck and ran.

The employee chased and caught the girl who told officers that she had stayed with a girl friend because her mother was having a party and she could not return home until that night.

She told officers that the girl friend had nothing to eat and when she had asked for food, her girl friend told her to go steal something.

New DAV chapter dedication set

Dedication and the presentation of the national charter for Jack M. Graichen Memorial Chapter 90 of the Disabled American Veterans will be held on Armed Forces Day, May 20.

The dedication ceremony will take place at the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Edwardsville at 1:30 p.m.

The Jack M. Graichen Memorial Chapter 90 was organized in February by the Disabled American Veterans and includes members from the Quad-Cities.

Jack M. Graichen, a military retiree from the Vietnam Era, was one of the outstanding leaders for the DAV in Illinois. He resided in the Springfield, Ill., area and died of his service-connected disabilities at the age of 46 on Feb. 2, this year. He was buried at Camp Butler National Cemetery near Springfield with full military honors.

The commander of chapter 90 is W. Ray Allen, Collinsville. The chapter adjutant is Roman Engel, Fairview Heights.

Dignitaries from the area will attend the ceremony, including the mayor of Edwardsville, Steve Ellsworth, other city officials, along with Sheriff John Maers of Madison County and State Representatives Joe E. Lucio and Everett G. Steele of the 56th Illinois Legislative District.

The public is invited to attend the function which also is a day of dedication to the armed forces of the United States of America.

TWO WOMEN CHARGED

Two young women were arrested on two charges at 11:30 p.m. Saturday after they allegedly left Ravanelli's Restaurant in the American Village Shopping center without paying a food bill, and became abusive when accosted by restaurant employees.

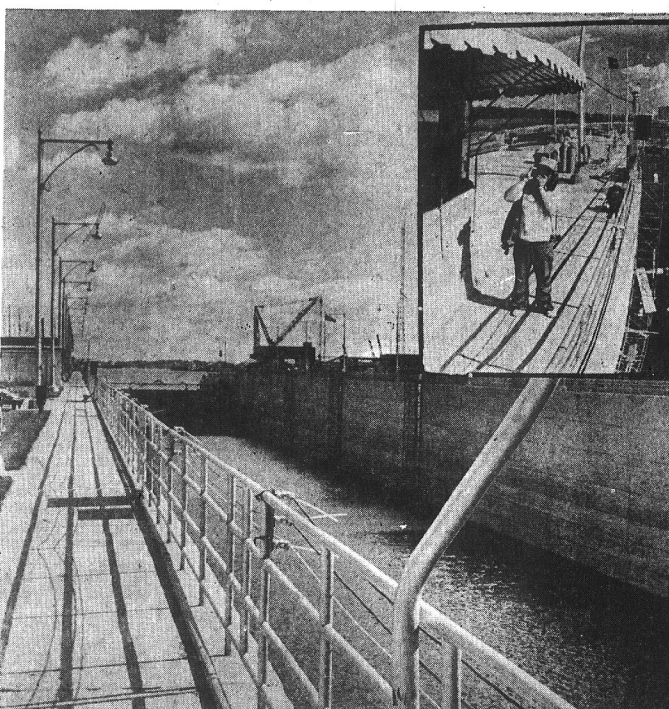

Charged were Leonette Boker, 23, of 2021A Washington Ave., and Cheryl Thornton, 19, of 2131A Benton St. Each was charged with disorderly conduct and theft of services.

Police said when they arrived near the restaurant two women were surrounded by a crowd of people on a lot near the American Heritage Bank and were shouting obscenities at the people. Both denied they had been to the restaurant, police said.

Safety, health rules seminar

In an effort to enlighten all businessmen, the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Agency) Informational Seminar Wednesday, May 24, at the Firemen's Hall, 1529 Third Street, Madison.

Dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. The seminar will start at 7:15 p.m. A cash bar will be open 5:30 p.m.

A panel of eight industrial leaders including the OSHA director of the Peoria office will be on hand to answer questions concerning OSHA and its regulations for business and industry.

A Chamber spokesman said that it appears many of the smaller industrial plants, retail outlets, service stations, and others are not familiar with OSHA regulations, which means they may be liable for penalties when an OSHA inspector calls, simply because they haven't been informed.

What to do and say when an inspector arrives at a plant or business is important because OSHA regulations are far reaching and every one in business should be familiar with them, the spokesman added.

Questions and answers will involve practical problems, and policies that make it difficult for OSHA officials and business to get along. Health and safety problems on the job will be discussed and questions answered.

Furnishing an escort for an OSHA representative, awareness of on-site comsultations, and a discussion of what services will be available from OSHA will be on the program.

Familiarity with the new labeling standards for hazardous materials and the cost impact, a definition of imminent danger in work areas, new regulations on carcinogens and the cost effect on business will be discussed.

Recent impending court cases related to the right of compliance officers to enter and inspect a place of business, and familiarity with the 12 most violated standards — known as the "dirty dozen" — are to be considered.

Reservations, tickets or information concerning the seminar may be obtained by calling the Chamber of Commerce office at 876-6400.

FUTURE PLANS for the funding of the lighting program for the South High sports complex are discussed last week by members of the special lighting committee in the offices of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. Clockwise around the table, from lower left, are: Ed McGovern, Bob Schoeber, Roger Higgins, Mrs. Jo Meyer, Wade Rollins, Warren Decatur, chairman of the solicitation committee, Nick Petrillo, Mrs.

Billie Schuler, Henry Mann, Harold Fischer, Walter Shuran and Edward Reiske, executive vice-president of the Chamber, at bottom. Also attending the meeting was James Dumont, principal of South High and chairman of the lighting committee. Several members of the committee voiced suggestions to raise additional money for the fund which has a goal of $75,000. (Press-Record Photo)

Acceptance rate high for SIUE students planning medical, dental fields

By TOMMYE WALTER

Although there are a lot more qualified students than there are spaces for them at medical and dental schools around the country, students preparing for these fields at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have a good chance for acceptance.

SIUE is well above the national average with 47 percent acceptance at medical schools and 39 percent for students entering dental medicine, Nancy Parker, associate professor of biological sciences and pre-professional adviser at the University, said.

Prof. Parker pointed out that the national rate of acceptance for medical schools is about 36 percent and in the same range for dental schools.

From a total of 17 SIUE students who applied to medical schools this year, eight have been accepted. Sixteen students have been accepted at dental schools from 27 applicants. Three students have received notices of acceptance from veterinary schools out of five applicants, and, out of four students who applied for admission to optometry schools, two have been accepted.

The number of acceptances at optometry schools could possibly go higher since applications are still being processed, Prof. Parker said. "Our acceptance rate is above average, reflecting the fact that many of our past students have fared extra well in professional schools," she said.

Much of the acceptance rate should be attributed to the University's pre-professional medical advising program. As part of the advising programs, students are told what the schools require in the way of coursework. They are exposed to the kind of information that will be included on the entrance examinations and are provided any other type of assistance needed in the application process.

Last spring, a pre-professional honor society was established on the SIUE campus. Students are selected to membership on the basis of their science grade point average.

"The organization serves not only to honor excellent students, but to aid in the advancement process in getting the necessary information to them," Prof. Parker said.

The adviser said that the organization is particularly helpful to beginning students in the program. Advancement also includes field trips to state medical and dental schools where students are given the opportunity to become familiar with the schools before they apply. Prof. Parker hopes to incorporate more of this type visitation into the advancement process in the future.

Students interested in the field of medicine have several choices of majors, but the bachelor of science in biology-medical science is by far the most popular at SIUE.

Prof. Parker said that this program is designed to produce a professional school applicant who will be competitive in the national pool. The biology professor is very proud of the students she advises. SIUE graduates are currently enrolled in or have been accepted at many professional schools, including Northwestern University, Loyola University, University of Illinois, Emory University, University of Missouri at Columbia, Washington University, Meharry, Michigan State University, University of Texas, Illinois College of Optometry, St. Louis University, SIUE School of Dental Medicine, and SIUE College of Medicine.

Prof. Parker is particularly pleased that one of SIUE's pre-professional majors is now serving a residency at Mayo Clinic. While the list of schools enrolling SIUE graduates is impressive, the professor of biological studies feels the list is destined to grow even longer.

"Once we get a student in the door of a school, the number of acceptances from that school tends to grow," Prof. Parker said. "I think that SIUE sometimes gets short-shrift in terms of reputation; our students have demonstrated that our programs are good," she said.

right is James Dumont, principal of South High and chairman of the lighting committee. The donation represents an average of $2 per employee at the local plant, 2101 Adams St. The money will be used to help provide lighting for the South High sports complex. (Press-Record Photo)

SIUE board authorizes connector road project

Authority to accept bids and award contracts for surfacing the southwest connector road on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was granted to the president of the SIUE Board of Trustees.

The authority is subject to approval by the executive committee of the board. The cost of the project is not to exceed $72,000.

The road, which will connect Circle Drive and Bluff Road, is nearly 3,000 feet in length. Twenty-four feet wide, the roadway will conform to Illinois Department of Transportation specifications, with District Eight personnel providing design and engineering assistance.

University officials said they expect the funding to be adequate to provide an asphaltic concrete (I-11) surface. Work on the roadbed is being completed through an apprenticeship upgrading training program under the direction of the area Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee, with representation from the International Union of Operating Engineers (IUOE). Southern Illinois Builders Association and Southern Illinois Contractors Association.

Officially known as the Whiteside Southwest Connector Training Roadway because the land where the road is located was homesteaded by William B. Whiteside before 1800, the new stretch of roadway is in the vicinity of the narrow farm lane which ran across the property when it was first acquired by the University in 1965.

The training program which provided the roadbed and improved right-of-way was launched by members of Local Union 520 of the IUOE in 1975.

Prather Band honors

Prather Junior High School Band students achieved eight first place awards and one second place award in the State Solo and Ensemble contest held last week at Mattoon, Ill.

Soloists receiving first place awards were Ann Higgins, clarinet; James Abbott, tenor sax; Ruth Miller, cornet; and Pam Box, Scott Fever, Terry Copeland and Danny Payne, drum.

An ensemble winning a first place award was a flute quartet, consisting of Bonnie Burns, Cathy Sandall, Susan Coffman and Kathy Harn. A clarinet quartet taking a second rating had Ann Higgins, Susie Woker, Lora Churchwell and Linda Robelf as members. Miss Alicia Hendrickson served as piano accompanist. Mrs. Mary Ann Davis is director of the Prather School Band.

GC student on top ten seniors list

The Commerce Council, a group representing students in the College of Commerce and Business Administration, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, has honored 10 senior students.

The council presented Top Ten Seniors Awards to students who achieved at least a 4.25 grade-point average out of a possible 5.0 points and who were leaders in service activities and student organizations. They include David Beth, 2324 Benton St., Granite City.

Equipment stolen from restaurant

Guitar and sound equipment valued at about $805 were stolen from the Half Ace Restaurant and Lounge (formerly Klein's) 2011 State St., it was discovered Thursday.

The equipment, including two microphones and an amplifier, belongs to Ruan Aundand, who entertains in the lounge. There were no signs of forced entry. Outside lights had been unscrewed enough to go off, it was discovered.

ABOVE GROUND. Construction of the new $3 million new middle school at Madison is above ground. The new school is being built on McCasland Drive east of Farish Street in the Maers Industrial Park, about three blocks north of the Madison

High School. The official groundbreaking took place on Monday, Nov. 28, 1977. School officials hope the school will be open for at least part of the 1978-79 school year. (Press-Record Photo)

Twice-a-year registration is best for the students, school counselors conclude Recent discussions on whether high school students in Granite City should continue to register each semester or should register only once a year have concluded with agreement to continue the twice-a-year registration, in the best interests of the students.

Guidance counselors for the Granite City schools have issued an explanation of registration procedures and why they feel registration each semester is beneficial to the student.

That explanation follows: "Counselors in Granite City high schools attempt in every way possible to help each student who graduates from our schools to proceed well-prepared toward his life goals. These life goals may be to continue his education in a college, business school, or technical school; or it may be to enter the world of work.

"The counseling departments in Granite City schools offer many services, but all are for the sole purpose of helping students learn more about themselves, their interests and their abilities.

"Activities that may help students learn more about their interests and abilities include the Differential Aptitude Test which is given to all ninth grade students, group work in the area of career awareness, informational services involving colleges, careers, and many additional student opportunities and registration of students for subjects.

"Selection of subjects is the single most important factor in a quality education. Subject choice determines whether a student graduates with courses which will admit him to a college, or with skills which will help him obtain a job.

"If a student is particularly ambitious, he may graduate with courses which might allow him to do both—go to college or enter the world of work. Guidance counselors recognize this important factor in the selection of subjects and place the highest priority and greatest amount of time in helping students make wise subject selections. This process is called registration.

"Registration procedure has three distinct steps—information, subject selection, and review of choices. In terms of time, registration procedure consumes the greatest amount of each counselor's schedule.

"Many other areas are closely related to registration, such as testing, maintaining a library of college catalogs, developing a career information center, and many other activities.

"Information concerning course offerings, requirements, content of courses, and general answering of questions is done in English classes and half-hour classes each semester. This is the general 'kick-off' for registration of classes.

"The information service begins in junior high school during the second semester of eighth grade and continues each semester until graduation.

Counselors also visit parochial schools whose students attend some classes in public schools.

"Students are instructed to take their registration forms home, discuss their selections with their parents, sign the registration forms and have them available when the counselors make an appointment for registration of subject selections.

"At Granite City High School, South, for approximately two months of each semester, counselors have individual conferences with each student regarding their subject selections. Counselors review requirements, credits, and current class progress with each student.

"These conferences also entail discussion of a student's goals after high school and whether his class selections are in agreement with his long-range goals.

"Parents are always welcome to call and have a phone conference with a counselor or make an appointment to discuss life goals or subject selections regarding their child. Contrary to what a high school student may tell his parent, many parents are actively involved in their child's course selections. The counselors welcome this involvement.

"Later in the semester, a student receives a copy of his selected subjects to review. Changes are allowed with a parent's signature at this time. This is the time for a student to check to see that the listed subjects are the ones he originally selected. Mistakes are corrected, and registration is completed. Changes by student request are not made after this date.

"This procedure of registration is repeated twice a year. Many schools register their students only once a year.

"In relation to the registration process, procedures have been tried in order to help each student obtain the best information and advice for his subject selections. Recently, Granite City studied the possibility of registering once each year with the conclusion that the student is best served with twice yearly registration.

"After much study and discussion, the decision to continue semester registration was made because, quite simply, semester registration better meets the need of each individual student. Each student has an opportunity twice a year, rather than once, to review his goals and possibly experiment in subject areas about which he may be thinking.

Fined $100

Jeff S. Perryman, 18, of 2646 E. 24th St., was charged with criminal trespass to property when arrested in the parking area of Granite City High School South last week.

School authorities alleged that Perryman had been asked to leave the area previously and had presented problems at the school last year.

Perryman, who is not a student at the school, said he had received a phone call from South High, telling him a cousin was sick. Upon checking, authorities said no student by the name he gave was enrolled in the school.

Perryman was taken before Associate Judge Thomas R. Gibbons and pleaded guilty to criminal trespass to property (city charge). He was fined $100 and $15 costs, to be paid before June 30. He was released from custody.

You can BANK on it!

BY GRANITE CITY TRUST AND SAVINGS

E.A. KARANDOFF JR., V. Pres.

One of the most valuable assets any individual can have is good personal credit.

With the economic ups and downs of today's world a good credit rating is almost a necessity. Good bank credit is widely regarded as the most valuable of all business references. The essence of this credit is trust and confidence. In fact, the word credit comes from a Latin verb which means to believe or trust.

In establishing good bank credit, you should keep several things in mind. Accurately describe what you need credit for. Provide all financial information relevant to the loan and then make the payments as agreed. If something unavoidable happens that causes delay in payment, let your banker know in advance.

At Granite City Trust we'll work with you every way we can. Good bank credit for you means a good customer for us. You can bank on it.

Achievers honored

Quadrant Cityans were among those spotlighted at the 20th annual Future Unlimited banquet given last week at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers by Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley.

Lori Clement of Guiding Lights, an A. O. Smith Corporation-sponsored JA company, received a college tuition scholarship as one of 25 regional awards based on academic attainment and on performance as a Junior Achiever.

A monetary scholarship for college attendance went to Karen Ozbun of Jape '78, a student company sponsored by the American Steel Foundries in Granite City.

Granite City Steel, sponsor of four JA companies that meet on a single night weekly at the Granite City JA Center, was saluted for the best performing multiple-sponsorship program.

Howard Theis accepted a JA company best-of-center award on behalf of A. O. Smith's Guiding Lights. And Mike Bell accepted a best word products company award for Jape of American Steel Foundries.

Ken Gattung of the Granite City school district, JA center manager, received a five-year adviser service award, as did Randy Hirschman of Granite City Steel.

Pat Tarantino, president of the Darto JA company at the Wood River center, spoke for the assembled JA members. The invocation was by Wanda Savage and awards were announced by Robert P. Stupp, JA president. Bob Kuban's band entertained.

Participants in the program included James L. Eisenberg, Paul H. Kelly, Carl E. Mathias and William F. Winter of the JA board of directors.

It was noted during the meeting that Junior Achievement is being extended to the Belleville area. In the bi-state region, there are 8,500 teenage Achievers of 133 high schools, taking part in 302 mini-corporations at 25 locations.

There are 750 adult advisers from 101 sponsoring firms, and sales of student-made products total $240,000. The program teaches the competitive free enterprise system.

Juveniles caught in burglary

Two Granite City youth were apprehended inside the Elwood Ackerman home, 2908 State St., last week, after police learned a burglary was in progress at the residence.

As officers entered through a rear door one youth started toward the front of the house and was put to the floor by an officer. The second youth was found hiding in a small room off the living room.

A glass pane was broken in a rear exterior door and a kitchen door was forced to gain access to the remainder of the house. A bedroom and an office were ransacked.

The 16-year-old youth had a round copper coin bank in his hand and a ladies wallet and $102 in currency and some change in a pocket. He also had a screwdriver and a prescription bottle in his possession.

Six keys and a newspaper clipping were found on the 15-year-old.

Both were released to parents later the same night with orders to return to police headquarters later.

THEFT IS WATCHED

While a witness watched, a man in his late 40's or early 50's loaded an old washer and dryer and about a car muffler and tailpipe units into a light blue pickup truck behind the garage of William Sturgeon, 2043 Quincy Ave., at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday and then left the scene.

Strawberry Festival planned for June 3

The Strawberry Festival and Bazaar, sponsored by Central Christian Church each year, was the main topic of discussion of the Christian Women's Fellowship, who met in the Terrace Room of the church. General chairman will be Doris Edwards, Joyce Rutledge and Mary Lee Lorton. They plan the fund raising project for Saturday, June 3, on the church grounds, 2020 Johnson Road, to take place from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

Group One included Lumeta Durbin, Dorothea Riverburgh, Sylvia Tapp, Margaret Rutter, Peggy Gibbons and Emma Goble, were hostesses for the evening.

Reports were given by Mary Lee Lorton, Mrs. Durbin, Lena Setzer, Mary Parrish, Mrs. Edwards, Joyce Bennington, Marie Gordon, and Velma Gruen.

Mrs. Parrish announced the Church Women United representatives meeting is set for May 22 at Concordia Lutheran Church and the group is to serve the Nameoki Women's Club luncheon at the church, Wednesday.

The CWF of Greater St. Louis Assembly meeting will be at Memorial Boulevard Church, May 23, it was noted.

A meeting for chairmen serving on the festival project is scheduled for May 25 and workshops are continuing each

Monday evening.

Mrs. Setzer announced vacation church school will be June 2-10 at Central Christian Church in cooperation with St. John United Church of Christ. The prayer vial will be 12 hours in the chapel beginning at 6 a.m. Wednesday, May 17, and continuing until 6 p.m.

Mrs. Ora Fletcher gave a report for the stewardship program and added the victory dinner will be on May 21.

An election of officers was held with Gail Stuart named president. Jo Stephens, vice president; Mary Lee Lorton, secretary; Norma McCormick, treasurer; Lena Setzer, worship chairman.

Other chairmen include Joyce Bennington, secretary; Velma Gruen, readings; Doris Edwards, service projects; Peggy Gibbons, Mobile Meals; Lydia Leggett, hospitality; Beth Spengler, receptions; Dorothea Riverburgh, publicity and Blanche Lane, representative to CWU.

After the business segment, Mrs. Gordon gave the study on "The Whole People of God," with Mrs. Gruen, Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. Parrish, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Spengler, Mrs. Tapp and Mrs. Fletcher, participating. Mrs. Setzer closed with a worship communion service and the CWF benediction.

Bike safety course for Brownie Troops

Brownie Troops 321 and 316, sponsored by Russell D. Johnson School, participated in a bike safety course, ride and picnic, last week.

The safety course was directed by Mrs. Dorothy Bailey, physical education teacher, followed by a bike ride from the school to the Mitchell Athletic Club park. After the group returned to the school they attended a picnic on the school grounds.

Troop 321 members attending were, Nannette Beck, Bobbi Brandibas, Lisa Butler, Shirley Gable, Tracey Gaudette, Rachel Goodman, Tracy Green, Amy Gregg, Dana Jewell, Amy Marley and Julie Martin.

Those of Troop 316 participating in the project were Michelle Bazzell, Vicki Edrington, Melissa Grubbs, Tracy Hamilton, Stephanie Hays, Tracy Phelps, Chris Selph, Misty Stark, Joanna Whaley and Karen Wilson.

Accompanying the scouts were Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Linda Beck, Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Edrington, leaders and co-leaders of both troops.

County historical group to meet

The Madison County Historical Society will hold its annual spring meeting at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 21, at the First Baptist Church, 34 St. Louis St., Edwardsville.

Blair Watson, Edwardsville, society president, said the public is invited to attend.

A Gordon Dobbs, chairman of First Baptist's Sequen-tennial Committee, will offer the welcome and give the principal address.

Boy Scout Troop 38 of Troy will present the colors and Dr. L. C. Boergadine, former pastor of the host church, will give the invocation.

Mrs. A. Austin Lewis of Madison and Mrs. Charles Kohl of Granite City are members of the historical society's board of directors.

Mrs. Lewis is a past president, Mrs. Fletcher, past president, and Mrs. Bernard of Granite City also is a past president.

Academy of Friendship observed

Senior Regent Pat Lipscomb officiated at a meeting of the Granite City Chapter of the Women of the Moose last week featuring Academy of Friendship Chapter night.

Five new Academy of Friendship members who were honored and received their golden ring were: Maxine Barnstable, Margaret Hester, Jerry Speece, Lorine Grill and Mary Lee Butler. Serving as aides for the ceremony were Margaret Houseman, Edna Miller, Sandy Medley and Marian Lipscomb.

Ruth Slower was presentation officer. New members enrolled during the evening were Gail Brake, Georgia Burris and Dee Ann Miller.

After the meeting lunch was served to 41 members. The next meeting on May 24, will be election of officers for the 1978-79 year.

Mrs. Paul hosts class meeting

The Progressive Class of Second Baptist Church, agreed to prepare fruit baskets for members who are ill, during a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Florence Paul, 2132 Illinois Ave.

Mrs. Minnie Cavin gave the opening prayer with Mrs. Georgia Mitchell conducting the business segment.

Devotions were offered by Mrs. Naomi Burnett and roll call was recorded by Mrs. Virginia Taylor.

Closing prayers were by Mrs. Dorothy Barnes, Mrs. Mina Duggins and Mrs. Rachel Westphal.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to those named and to Mesdames Naomi Rongey, Lena Stephens, Gertrude Bundy, Marguerite Keeton, Telie Naylor, Iva Biggs, Lena Bonnavar, Lena Reeves, Virginia Pickens, and guests Norma Rains, Myra Grote, Ruby Mayberry and Dorothy Barnes.

A birthday pot luck dinner will be served at 11 a.m. at the June meeting to be held at the church, it was announced.

Fifth birthday of Dixie Lynn Price

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Price, 2581 Spaulding Ave., entertained guests at party in observance of the fifth birthday of their daughter, Dixie Lynn Price.

Roses and balloons were used for the party decorations, and a three tiered decorated cake created by Mrs. Janet Juhman, the honoree's godmother, centered the table.

The hosts served a fish fry dinner to Mr. and Mrs. William Willard, grandparents, and Mrs. Edith Penrod, great-grandmother of the guest of honor and to Mr. and Mrs. James Fuhrman and children, Jimmy and Sherri, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Willard and children, Maria and Mare, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bryant and son, Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Earley and daughter Ellen.

A dessert course was served after the youngster opened her gifts.

Thorngate Club plans projects

The Thorngate Garden Club completed plans for June activities at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Patricia Polley, last week.

Vice-President June Lux presided at the session and announced the group will attend a field trip to St. Charles, Mo. There they will tour the antique shops and attend a luncheon, in June.

A yard sale is scheduled for June 22-24, it was noted.

Roll call was taken as each member related a special event with her mother, followed by the recitation of a poem entitled, "The Secret" by Mrs. Clara Schilling.

Mrs. Lux also reported on members who are ill including Helen Polley, Enid Bolin, Warda Herman and Alma Irwin.

The hostess served a luncheon using a green and white motif for the table centerpiece with yellow candles.

Others present were Mesdames Lilian Delps, Beula

Homemakers Class hears Mrs. Fox

Mrs. Lorine Fox presented a devotional lesson for members of The Christian Homemakers Class of Calvary Baptist Church, last week, at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Thelma Dutton, 2318 Washington Ave.

She selected "The Importance of Little Insignificant Things" as her topic and closed with prayer.

The secretary, Kathleen Sitter, submitted her report during the business session, followed by an evening of games. Those winning prizes were Ruth Dagon, Pauline Weir, Lorine Fox, Shirley Worster and Mrs. Sitter.

The meeting in June will be hosted by Mrs. Weir, class teacher, in her home, 3276 Wabash Ave., and Mrs. Dagon will give the lesson.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to those mentioned and to Pauline Hall.

Pack 103 exhibits collections

Pack 103 held its monthly meeting at St. Margaret Mary cafeteria. Opening flag ceremony was presented by Den One, assisted by Mrs. Mickey Strack and Mrs. Mary Edwards, leaders.

Assistant Cubmaster, Larry Beyer, conducted the meeting and presented Ron Lueben, of the Unwah District, who spoke about Cub Scout day camp to be held in July.

Both Den One and Den Two had tables set up for viewing collections centering around this month's theme "The World Around Us." Den Two also performed during the meeting assisted by their leader, Mrs. Mary Sturdivant.

Awards were presented to the following boys: Larry Beyer and Tim Penge, Bear badge and gold arrow, and Tom Sturdivant, gold arrow.

After the meeting refreshments were served to those attending by Den Two.

Other cub scouts present were: John Aliman, David Aerne, David Bagette, Richard Caldwell, Billy Caudle, Joey Edwards, Jeff Fedora, Danny Miller, Scott Strack and Jimmy Strack of Den One and Mike Loyet, Philip Valencia, Lee Schrieber and Jimmy Chomko of Den Two.

The next committee meeting will be held May 16 at the school with the pack meeting set for May 24.

Mother's breakfast at St. Elizabeth Church

St. Elizabeth Altar Society and Holy Name Society hosted the 20th annual Mother's Communion Breakfast last week with 130 women of the parish attending the event following a 9 a.m. mass.

Members of the Holy Name organization prepared and served the breakfast. Second grade girls at St. Elizabeth who made their first communion, preceded the women down the aisle at mass and were the guests of the Altar Society at breakfast.

Seated at the main table were officers of the Altar Society, Mary Evelyn Yench, president; Pam Ames, vice-president; Jeanne Beatty, treasurer; Father Mark McGovern, Father Kenneth Becker and a group of entertainers, The New Life Singers.

Special music was presented by the group which includes Tina Arico, Ronda Fenton, Gail Neidhardt and Kay Sykes, pianist.

Potted geraniums were used as table decorations and were later awarded as prizes to Joan Achenbach, Cookie Adamatis, Angie Brown, Ida Gragg, Dorothy Hanne, Helen Heuer, Rosalia Johannmeier, Jane Kozielek, Belle Kreher, Joan Love, Beverly Ratliff, Marie Reinhardt.

A red carnation was presented by Mrs. Yench to officers and chairmen in appreciation of their assistance during the year. Those honored were Joan Achenbach, Pam Ames, Joanne Beatty, Vivian Byers, Pat Fitzgerald, Ida Gragg, Margaret Groboski, Loretta Haack, Rose Hilker, Martha Kozusko, Rose Krystopa, Pat Niles, Janet Neidhardt, Anne Pare, Catherine Ponce, Mary Ohlendorf, Paula Thounout, and Sylvia Winfield.

The president also presented

Legal Secretaries to meet June 6

The Madison County Legal Secretaries Association will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, June 6, at Tony's Altos.

Dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting will begin at 7:30.

religious charm bracelets to each of the girls in the communion class including, Tammy Ames, Susan Arth, Elizabeth Frisse, Roberta Hilker, Michelle Knobloch, Ann Krystopa, Cary Kubelick, Alice Loftus, Michelle Parra, Kellie Ratliff, Ann Margaret Szczepanski, Kristin Thomas and Christy Thounout.

The centerpiece at the main table consisted of a Bible on a wrought iron stand covered with greenery and adorned with two white doves. Initially, the women were presented with pink name tags in the shape of a teacup and at each setting a rock or glass animal pin cushion served as the favor.

Xi Epsilon Chi installs

An installation ceremony for newly elected officers of Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, was held at the May meeting of the group, in the home of Mrs. Janet Monaghan, 141 Briarwood Lane.

Those to serve for the ensuing year are Helen Hall, president; Joan Pritchard, vice-president; Linda Koenig, recording secretary; Cathy Farnbach, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Monaghan, treasurer; Marilyn Lumpkins, extension officer.

A candlelight pledge ritual was conducted by the hostess for Cookie White and Vicki Thomas, during the session.

The chapter named Mrs. Carol Cathey "girl of the year" at the Founder's Day observance. It was announced she is a past president of the chapter and of the Sorority City Council.

A short business meeting was conducted by the retiring president, Barbara Jones, and she then turned the meeting over to the new officers.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to those named and to Donna Lane, Judy Haven, Barbara Hente and Candy Thompson, and guests, Emily Cechos and Judy Bartel.

MR. AND MRS. MARK A. HOFFMAN. Their wedding took place at Holy Trinity Church in Morgantown, Ky. The bride is the former Deborah Lee Daugherty, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Daugherty, Morgantown, Ky., and the groom is from Granite City.

Deborah Daugherty weds Mark Anthony Hoffman

An out of town wedding of interest here, was that of Miss Deborah Lee Daugherty, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Daugherty, Rural Route Two, Morgantown, Ky., and Mark Anthony Hoffman, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoffman, 2800 Harding Blvd., on May 6, in the Holy Trinity Church, Morgantown.

Father Edward Gorny officiated at the ceremony, before an altar flanked with ferns and centered with an arrangement of gladiolus, daisy pom poms, and baby's breath. Spiral candelabra on each side held pastel color tapers, to complete the spring setting.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a long white crepe gown fashioned with a scoop neckline and long fitted sleeves accented with lace motifs and pearls, and a floor length skirt which extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was edged with Alencon lace held in place with a lace and pearl headpiece. She carried a bouquet of yellow Sweetheart roses and baby's breath on a Bible.

Matron of honor Miss Debra Abbott chose a formal length yellow polyester gown trimmed in white lace. She carried a basket of yellow daisies interspersed with baby's breath.

Mrs. Sandra Givens, a cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaid. She appeared in a blue dotted swiss gown and matching picture hat. She also held a basket of daisies in pastel hues.

The flower girl, Karen Abbott, was dressed in a pink frock designed with a white overskirt, and she carried a basket of spring blossoms. Christopher Hankins, of Granite City, was the ringbearer.

The groom chose his twin brother, John Hoffman, as best man. Jack Daugherty, a brother of the bride, was the groomsmen.

Ushers included Steven Daugherty and David Hoffman, brothers of the bride couple. Mrs. Daugherty, mother of the bride, was seated in a long mint green gown with matching jacket and white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hoffman, wore a long blue crepe dress complemented with white accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Abbott of Henderson, N.C., assisting Mrs. Betty Daugherty presided over the guest register.

After a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla., the newly married couple will reside in Plattsmouth, Neb.

The bride is a graduate of Butler County High School, and is presently a medical administrative specialist with the U.S. Air Force, stationed at Offutt AFB, Omaha, Neb.

The groom is a security police officer at Offutt AFB in Omaha, and is a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School South.

Lesche Literary Club hosts annual president's luncheon

The traditional president's day luncheon was the highlight of the final meeting of Lesche Literary Club held last week in the home of Mrs. Verna Stuart.

During the event Mrs. Geneva Miller installed the newly elected officers who will begin their term when the group reconvenes in the fall.

She used a decorative green and white double ring, depicting the club colors with burning white tapers, a symbol of guiding lights, in the ceremony.

The new president, Mrs. Mary Miller, was presented with a red candle recognizing her acceptance of the office. Each of her officers were given tapers in hues denoting their particular duties in relation to the club activities.

Vice-president Peggy Stevens held a green candle, Bess Henley, secretary, was given a blue taper, and Lois Holsinger, treasurer, received a violet candle.

Each member followed with a small lighted candle and added it to the arrangement as their pledge of cooperation to the new corps of leaders.

A handmaiden white rose was given to the 1978 officers by the installing officer and Mrs. Stuart presented a miniature garland, decorated with fresh flowers, to Mrs. Miller.

As the ceremonial event proceeded, Mrs. Miller gave Mrs. Stuart three china roses on behalf of the club and Mrs. Stuart presented the retiring officers and installation officer with a festive basket of strawberries.

The hostess introduced guests Mrs. Pauletta Mueller and Mrs. Carrie Hansen, followed by the pledge to the flag and club collect repeated in unison.

Literary chairmen, Mrs. Marie Gordon, Mrs. Lois Holsinger and Mrs. Faith Holsinger, spoke on the Garnet Kelo Literary award, sponsored by the club. They read three themes created by students at South High School, noting the award winner will be announced at Recognition Day at the high school, this month.

Mrs. Miller submitted her report on committees to serve for the forthcoming year, and Mrs. Stevens, program chairman, reviewed plans for the fall months announcing guest day is scheduled for the fourth Tuesday in October.

Also present were Mesdames Burdine Holtzschler, Marie Klein, Lena Rouland and Mary Ann Cochran.

About this question:

"A businessman can have insurance to cover the cost of business interruption and lost rentals from risks such as fire, windstorm and explosion. He can also insure against lost earnings from such risks. Does the Lueders Agency supply all such insurance from the business firm or the property owner?"

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD PINKLEY, whose wedding was solemnized at Bethel Temple Pentecostal Church. Formerly Deborah K. French, the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Carl Conine, 213 Sunny Shores, and Roy W. Anderson, 3032 Iowa St.

Pinkley-French wedding at Bethel Temple Church

Deborah K. French, 2507 Grand Ave., became the bride of Howard B. Pinkley, 2109A Johnson Road, in a late afternoon ceremony, on April 8, at Bethel Temple Pentecostal Church.

The Rev. Ralph McKinney officiated at the double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock before an altar adorned with bouquet of white daisies and carnations. Parents of the bride are Mrs. Carl Conine, 213 Sunny Shores, and Roy W. Anderson, 3032 Iowa St. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pinkley, 1829 Market St., Madison.

Organ music was provided by Dolores Perry and included the selections, "Colour My World" and "You Are So Beautiful."

For her wedding, the bride selected a formal length beige floor gown designed with an oval neckline accented with a wide collar which formed short cap sleeves.

Her A-line skirt was encircled with a deep flounce defined with a brown ribbon and lace.

She wore a fluted brim hat and held a colonial bouquet of summer daisies and greenery. Matron of honor Mrs. Valerie Anderson, a sister-in-law of the bride, selected a long beige dress, trimmed in brown. She also carried a white daisy bouquet.

Julie French, the bride's daughter, served as the flower girl. She was dressed in a white lace floor length frock and she carried a wicker basket filled with daisies.

David Pinkley, a nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer. The groom chose Bob Harris as best man.

Guests were received at a reception held in the home of the bride's parents, after the service.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and the groom was graduated from Madison High School. He is presently employed at M. H. Wolfe & Co.

They are residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

103 attend Golden Agers dinner meet

Mrs. Ruby Corbitt, president of the Kirkpatrick Golden Age Circle Club, extended greetings to 103 guests and members who attended the luncheon meeting of the club.

Guests included Janet Terman from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, who is majoring in the study of Senior Citizens. Mrs. Elina Hoover, president of the American Association of Retired Persons, John Batson, of the Salvation Army, who gave the table blessing.

Also David Morgan, executive director of the housing project, and his employees, Ollie DeGuire, Mary Brewer, Lillian Crawford, Vivian Callender, Dorothy McCormick, Marilyn Brannbauer and Bernice Hagauer.

A communication was read from a former member, Mrs. Ellen Christy who is presently making her home with a daughter in San Diego, Calif. The tables were decorated with vases and pitchers of pink and yellow roses arranged by Evelyn Davis.

Hostesses for the day were Caroline Lux, Edith Young, Alva Stearns, Evelyn Davis, Tom and Juanita Crawley, Gladys Filter, Clara Earney, Ferna Moeble, Rebecca Pariah and Kathryn Grimm.

Games were played and prizes won by Art Rankin, Theresa Walkenback, Leona Parente, Mrs. Filter and Elizabeth Gazzo.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH C. MEADE. They were united in marriage at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Hamel. The bride is the former Cheryl Ann Ahrens, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Ahrens of Staunton.

Alpha Eta enrolls members

Mrs. Martha Moornaw, president of Alpha Eta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, presided at the May salad luncheon and business meeting of the chapter at the East Alton First United Methodist Church.

An initiation ceremony for two prospective members was held, with Miss Ruth Toomey in charge. New initiates are Mrs. Dolores Cuddy Folkerts of Wood River, a counselor at Madison High School, and Mrs. Irene Marie Noto, Rohrkaste of Edwardsville, a business education teacher at East Alton-Wood River High School.

This was followed by a celebration of Alpha Eta's 36th birthday with appropriate remarks made by Mrs. Agnes Fryntko and group singing led by Miss Carolyn Beckett.

Miss Mary Friday's impressive tribute to the founders which was presented at the Lambda (Illinois) State Convention in Peoria, reported with Miss Jennie Raffaele, Mrs. Lois Welch, Miss Thelma Benson and Miss Leigh Heller participating.

A scholarship recruitment grant, awarded annually by Alpha Eta Chapter, was presented by Mrs. Shirley McCune to Martha Arnold, a graduating senior from East Alton-Wood River High School, who plans to attend Fontbonne College for the fall.

Miss Kathleen Katchoff, a business education teacher at Granite City High School South, and a resident of Granite City, was installed as second vice president.

Other officers who will serve for the next biennium are Mrs. Grace Monroe, president, Alton; Mrs. Jean Lowenstein, first vice-president, East Alton; Mrs. Louise Sheary, recording secretary, Edwardsville; Mrs. Betty McDaniels, corresponding secretary, Alton; Mrs. Ruth Carr, treasurer, Alton; and Miss Vera Jones, parliamentarian, Wood River.

Hostesses for the meeting were Miss Ann Johnson and Mrs. Mary Locke.

Other Granite City members in attendance were Mrs. Muriel Kratz, Mrs. Margaret Mulach, Miss Selma Nelson, Mrs. Pat Moore, Mrs. Mary Turner and Mrs. Linda McDonnell.

Cub Scouts visit Sambo's Restaurant

Den One of Pack 103 from St. Margaret Mary School were conducted on a tour of St. Elizabeth Hospital by Mrs. Becky Slate of the Public Relations Department.

The scouts were shown many different departments on the tour including X-ray, physical therapy, laundry, cafeteria, medical records and emergency room.

The hospital chapel was also visited, where the boys met the hospital Father, Joseph Audit. After the tour the boys were treated to refreshments. Those attending were John Auman, David Aerne, David Baggett, Richard Caldwell, Billy Cagle, Joe Edwards, Jeff Fedora, Danny Miller, Scott Strack and Jimmy Strack.

They were accompanied by leaders, Mrs. Mickey Strack and Mrs. Mary Edwards. Also attending were Tracy Edwards, Sandra Edwards, Maria and Butch Lamproe.

Cheryl Ann Ahrens and Joseph Meade are wed

Miss Cheryl Ann Ahrens, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Ahrens, Staunton, and Joseph Carl Meade, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Meade, also of Staunton, formerly of Granite City, were married on March 11, at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Hamel.

Pastor Robert Gaiser officiated at the double ring ceremony with Pastor W. F. Hirschke assisting. Soloists Pat and Mary Ann Heiss were accompanied by Alice Sievers, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long gown of ivory organza fashioned with a high neckline and long full sleeves cuffed with lace.

Matching lace marked the natural waistline and created a vertical design on the skirt, fashioned with a full sweep train.

Her fingertip veil, trimmed with lace, was secured to a camelot headpiece.

Janet Ahrens, a cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor with bridesmaids Beverly Ahrens, Kathy Ahrens, sisters-

-in-law of the bride, Diane Schlechte and Pam Meade, sisters of the groom, and Janice Sievers.

Melissa Faure and Steven Ahrens, a nephew of the bride, and Derek Stienmeyer, the bride's cousin, served as flower girl and ringbearers.

The bridesmaids were dressed alike in rainbow color gowns in green, pink, yellow, blue and apricot, trimmed with ivory lace. The dresses were designed with scoop necklines, full sleeves and floor length skirts featuring bands of inset lace.

Mark Meade, a brother of the groom, was best man. Gerald and Dennis Ahrens, brothers of the bride, Gary Schlechte, the groom's brother-in-law, Darrell Sievers, a cousin of the bride, Harold Knackstedt and David Ebling, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was given at the Livingston Park Pavilion after the service. Following a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks the newlyweds are now residing in Staunton.

ENGAGED, Miss Carol Jean Barnett whose engagement to Mark Bradshaw is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Barnett, 2546 Buenger Blvd. A June 24 wedding is planned.

Carol Barnett is bride-elect

Mr. and Mrs. William Barnett, 2546 Buenger Blvd., are announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Carol Jean Barnett to Mark Bradshaw, 2442 Sheridan Ave.

The groom-elect is a son of Mrs. Helen Smith and Clyde Bradshaw, both of Granite City. He graduated from Granite City High School South in 1973.

The engaged couple are completing plans for a June 24 wedding to take place at The Church of God of Prophecy, 1732 Rhodes St., Madison.

180 attend May Fellowship Day

Seventy-nine pupils from the first, second and third grades at St. Mary-St. Mark parochial schools presented a maypole dance and sang several songs to Church Women United's May Fellowship Day celebration.

The morning hours were devoted to scripture sharing, presentation of the promise, prayer, dedication of the offering and hymns in St. Mary's Church sanctuary.

Mrs. Louise Lewis sang, "I Believe."

The welcome was offered by Mrs. Marion Pierson, CWU president, and Father Ralph Scherrer, St. Mary's pastor, greeted the 180 women attending.

Luncheon was served in the new St. Mary's Parish Hall and the afternoon session included the children's program and the gathering and dedication of the promises.

Appreciation was expressed by Mrs. Pierson to members of St. Mary's PTA, headed by Mrs. Lewis, and St. Ann's Altar Society, Mrs. Mary Ann Bunk, president.

Sister Barbara and Connie Grapes directed the student program and Barbara Cox served as accompanist on the guitar.

Mrs. Myra Parrish and Mrs. Mary Elliott were co-chairmen of the May Fellowship Day celebration, assisted by Mrs. Marie Gordon, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Helen Baran and Mrs. Peg Stevens, committee members.

Short story writer honored

Constance Corzilus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. (Nona) Corzilus, 2300 Laverlin Blvd., has achieved second place in the Leah F. Trelease Memorial Short Story competition at the University of Illinois at Champaign.

The competition, sponsored by the English Department, was open to all undergraduate students at the university.

Miss Corzilus earned runner-up status with her short story, "Burnt Leaves." She received a cash award of $60.

A sophomore in the College of Language Arts and Sciences, Miss Corzilus is a James Scholar participating in Honors English and Honors Rhetoric. She is a 1978 graduate of Granite City High School South and served as editor of South's student newspaper, "High World."

Youth found with pills questioned

Granite City police are questioning a 17-year-old Granite City youth who allegedly had a bag containing 112 pills in his pocket when arrested at Nameoki and Pebling roads last week. Officers alleged the youth was staggering and disoriented and said he found the bag of pills on Terminal Avenue. Officers noted a large number of prescription pills were taken during a burglary on Terminal Avenue Tuesday night.

GC All-City band festival Saturday

The Granite City School District will sponsor the sixth All-City Band Festival at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 20, in Memorial Gymnasium at Granite City High School South.

Three bands will perform in the festival, including a combined high school band consisting of students from both North and South high schools, a junior high band composed of pupils from Coolidge, Grigsby and Prather schools and an elementary band made up of children from both the Nameoki and Lake Division bands.

About 300 musicians will participate in the festival with each of the three groups presenting separate programs of music. Auditions and rehearsals are currently under way with the local band directors in charge until the day of the concert when the guest conductor will arrive to work with the students.

Dr. Alexander L. Pickard, director of bands at the University of Missouri, will serve as the 1978 guest conductor.

The public is invited to attend the festival. Tickets are presently available from hand students and at local music stores. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Appeals board plans hearings

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold three on-site zoning hearings in Quad-City area townships Thursday. The first hearing will be at 9:45 a.m. Thursday at 209 Harrison St., Eagle Park Acres, where Ernest Richmond and Rufus Williamson are requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home for at least five years. The property is zoned R-4 for residential use and is in Venice Township.

At 10:10 a.m. Thursday, the board will meet at 2558 Buenger Boulevard in Wilshire Manor, Nameoki Township, where Charles E. Ray is requesting a variance to construct an attached garage and porch within 20 feet of the front property line and three and one-half feet from the side property line. The property is zoned R-3 for residential use.

The third hearing will be at 10:25 a.m. Thursday on Joyce Street near Pontoon Road in the Cedar View Subdivision, where James B. Morris Jr. is requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home there for up to two years while a permanent residence is being constructed for him. The property is in an R-3 district of Nameoki Township.

Authorize bonds for SIUE center project

Authorization to sell $6.3 million in Southern Illinois University Housing and Auxiliary Facilities System Revenue Bonds for projects at the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses was granted Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

Bids will be accepted Thursday, June 15, at 10 a.m. at the offices of A. G. Becker, 1 First National Bank Plaza, Chicago. The bonds, plus an estimated $440,000 anticipated interest earnings on construction funds, will provide funding for a $5.5-million heating, ventilation and air-conditioning project in various housing units located on the Carbondale campus and $800,000 for a remodeling project in the University Center at SIUE at Edwardsville.

The board also approved the appointment of the firm of Chapman and Cutler, Chicago, as bond counsel for the specified series of bonds, and the firm of

A. G. Becker, Chicago, as fiscal adviser for the project. A sum of $100,000 was approved to establish a contingency fund to cover various professional fees and costs of printing, travel, and other similar expenses.

The board authorized Chairman Harris Rowe and Trustee A. D. Van Meter Jr. to approve on behalf of the board the official statement which must be prepared for the sale of bonds, and members of the executive committee were authorized to act on the board's behalf in approving other documents or matters necessary to prepare for the sale of bonds on June 15.

Plans for the air-conditioning and remodeling projects have been developed over a period of several months and recently were updated with revised estimates by professional engineering firms.

SAFETY AWARD IN DUNBAR SCHOOL. The Madison elementary schools in cooperation with the Madison Police and Fire departments are conducting safety programs. Awards have been made in each school. At Dunbar School last week, Tyrone Madgett, far right, learns he has just won

$10,000 fire damage at home

An estimated $10,000 damage was done by fire, smoke and water to the home of Ron Barlock, 1621 Sycamore St., at 12:25 a.m. Friday. A Long Lake fireman said that the fire apparently began in the utility room when a hot water heater turned on and ignited fumes from a can of gasoline in which paint brushes were soaking. Long Lake firemen were on the scene about two hours.

Price adviser to UN disarmament talks

Congressman Melvin Price (D-Ill.) announced that he has been appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives as one of the Congressional advisers to the upcoming United Nations General Assembly Special Session on Disarmament in New York from May 23 to June 28.

"These will be the first worldwide disarmament talks since 1932," Congressman Price stated. It is expected that more than 144 nations will participate in the talks designed to allow those nations not possessing nuclear weapons an opportunity to have a voice in the disarmament issue.

Congressman Price stated that "we are hoping not only that helpful ideas will come out of the talks but also that America can find support for the policies that we are constantly arguing for at the SALT negotiations."

Young authors honored at state school meet

Six students represented the Granite City School District in the Young Authors Conference held in Jacksonville, Ill. They were among 122 delegates representing 50 Southern Illinois Districts.

The students attended workshops of their choice and met Dr. Robert Crowe, superintendent of schools in Jacksonville, who is a published author of children's literature. The participants were presented with a certificate of recognition and a copy of one of Dr. Crowe's books.

Those attending were: Ben Szedlar, Nameoki school first grader who wrote "Happiness in the Jungle," son of Mr. and Mrs. William Szedlar, 4029 Sara St.

Heather Crane and Michelle Jones (co-authors), Niedringhaus third graders who wrote "The Octopus That Had Nine Legs," daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Crane, 3037 Iowa St. and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones, 2639 Edison.

Dan Graff, Parkview fourth grader who wrote, "Dan Graff and Friends" son of Mr. and Mrs. William Graff, 3209 Erin Drive.

Colleen Ryan, Parkview fourth grader who wrote, "Robert Ruckensfish Rabbit," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, 3608 Stratford Lane.

Eric Gunderson, Emerson sixth grader who wrote "The Death of the Priceless Jewels," son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gunderson, 2333 Delmar Ave.

Boy, 14, injured

Charles Collins III, 14, of 2240 Nevada St., was sutured and X-rayed at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a cut to the rear of his head suffered when another boy struck him with brass knuckles at 25th and Ohio streets at 8:35 a.m. Wednesday.

Collins said after the boy struck him from behind, Collins turned to fight him, but the boy's father then got out of a pickup truck nearby and threatened to beat Collins if he retaliated against his son. The boy's mother also was in the truck, he stated.

Your home can win a merit badge

The National Energy Watch decal is an award well worth earning.

It's given by Illinois Power to customers whose homes meet high standards for energy efficiency.

What is National Energy Watch? It's a national program in which Illinois Power and utility companies throughout the U.S. are helping customers improve the energy efficiency of their homes.

What's in it for you? When your home qualifies for the National Energy Watch award, you'll enjoy better, more comfortable living all year around. You'll be getting maximum efficiency from your energy dollars. You'll make a contribution to the national effort to conserve energy and upgrade the value of your home at the same time.

How can you qualify? Call or visit the Energy Use Advisor at our office. He'll arrange for an energy audit of your home, which will include specific recommendations, if needed, for bringing your home up to the thermal construction standards of the National Energy Watch. When your home qualifies, you'll be awarded a certificate of membership and a window decal.

The red, white and blue National Energy Watch decal is a "merit badge" you can display with pride.

Quick response to the fire shows hospital's preparedness

It was an unplanned and unfortunate event to observe Hospital Week. But the May 9 fire at St. Elizabeth's Hospital eloquently demonstrated the staff's ability to respond instantly — a reaction that served to maintain essential services and limit the number and extent of injuries. It is the high skill of the local health and medical center that makes it such an asset to this community and the surrounding area. Even in the situation that led to the fire — soon by an emotionally ill patient — the hospital has planned ahead and will soon complete the construction of a separate psychiatric building. Currently the fourth largest "industry" in the Quad-City area, employing more than 1,100, St. Elizabeth operates intentionally without profit — keeping the costs to patients well below those at hospitals throughout the state, region and nation and reinvesting all surplus funds in the hospital in order to keep the facilities up-to-date and assure that the best care can be provided. Activities celebrating the $18 million expansion program that is in progress will be held on the hospital grounds during the early evening of Thursday, May 25. Despite and because of the Hospital Week occurrences, it will be a truly happy and positive occasion.

Role by ADM, state in easing dependence on foreign oil

A shipment Friday from Archer-Daniels-Midland Co. to Washington, D. C., could be an important step in the efforts by Illinois and the U.S. to restore "home grown" fuel sufficiency — a vital defense and economic goal. Six hundred gallons of "corn squeezing" shipped, the first batch of Illinois-produced grain alcohol for use in "gasohol."

The grain fuel will be mixed with unleaded gasoline to form 60/40 gasohol. The latter is viewed as a way to sharply reduce American dependence on foreign oil while also curbing waste of energy-producing materials in this nation. Farm authorities think the process will reduce surpluses of farm grains. Grain alcohol can be made from grains, wood pulp, sweet potatoes, beets, sugar cane and other starchy or sugary materials. ADM, one of the world's largest grain processors, wants to use alcohol production to "totally end waste in our system. We want a refuse level of zero."

At present, gasohol is more expensive to produce than gasoline, but this may not always be true. Illinois Administrative Services Director Theodore Packorius reports that a 90-day test in 11 state vehicles showed that the mixture of gasoline and alcohol increased mileage by six percent and cut related air pollution by 32 percent.

Post-Watergate political campaign funds go a 'courtin'

Press-Record Washington Bureau — One legacy of Watergate is a new set of federal and state laws attempting to curb the flow of money into political campaigns and lobbying activities.

The U. S. Supreme Court, it turns out is less enthusiastic toward this kind of political reform than those who drafted much of the new legislation. Early in 1976, the high court struck down the spending limits on presidential and congressional campaigns which Congress had imposed in 1974. This effectively did away with campaign spending limits that were being enacted in many states, including those in California's 1974 political reform initiative, Proposition 9.

A year ago the court went along with a decision of the California Supreme Court throwing out Proposition 9's limitations on the amount of money that could be spent gathering signatures on political decisions. Recently, the court went a step further, overturning a Massachusetts law that forbids corporations from spending money on campaigns for or against ballot measures.

This may jeopardize laws in other states that restrict corporate political activity and, according to some interpretations, may even raise a question about the federal Corrupt Practices Act, dating from the turn of the century, which forbids direct corporate contributions to candidates in federal elections.

Split decisions have characterized these interventions by the Supreme Court — a 5-4 division, for instance, in the recent ruling.

The justices are not seeing eye to eye on the First Amendment issue raised by spending limitation laws, and we can appreciate the worry of the dissenters about the impact of excessive spending on our political process.

Yet, the court's majority is taking a position that should have been obvious to authors of reform legislation. Money, like it or not, translated directly into "speech" in political campaigns — the pamphlets, posters, air time and advertising of public debate. To restrict the freedom of that form of speech is contrary to the First Amendment.

Justice Lewis F. Powell has now taken the next logical step, writing for the majority. This type of speech is indispensable to decision-making in a democracy, he said, "and this is no less true because the speech comes from a corporation rather than in individual."

Laws still stand — and should — which require disclosure of the source of campaign contributions.

They are an effective defense against secret bankrolling of campaign efforts by individual or corporate "fat cats." The public is wise enough, when the air is filled with the blare of campaign "speech," to consider the source.

Neither the courts nor legislators can deal with the principal problem of political financing — the cost of mounting an effective campaign in this era of mass communications.

The costly "media blitz" and the repetition of simplistic slogans do little to illuminate the character, qualifications or the often-complex pros and cons of ballot issues.

The Constitution protects the right of candidates and their backers to crank up the volume of their campaigns to the extent that their pooled and still-limited contributions allow. The democratic process demands this freedom of speech, but we wish the politicians could figure out a better way to use it.

Marriage, career prospects directly affected by Equal Rights Amendment

To the Editor:
True or false? The Equal Rights Amendment will deny a woman the right to be supported by her husband.

That's false. ERA won't force homemakers out into the marketplace. There are a lot of things ERA just won't do, but there are many more things it will accomplish: protective labor laws for men and women; equal education opportunities; and recognition of the role of the homemaker. And that's what's important.

Nationwide attention has been focused on ERA ever since 1972, when both the U.S. House of Representatives and the Senate voted overwhelmingly in favor of the proposed 27th amendment.

Thirty-five states followed suit and ratified ERA. The support of three additional states is still needed and there is among the 15 states which have yet to give ERA the green light.

With the March 22, 1978, deadline for ratification rapidly approaching, the Equal Rights Amendment will be in the spotlight more than ever.

In Illinois, the House of Representatives and Senate are gearing up for roll call votes this spring.

Equal rights and the proposed 27th amendment aren't just women's issues. Men benefit, too.

Despite what some people fear, ERA won't change personal relationships between men and women, nor will it change social customs.

The amendment will provide justice for all — "equality under the law." And that's something positive for everyone.

With ERA, husbands will be eligible to draw on their wives' Social Security, just as wives draw on their husbands' Social Security now.

With ERA, if a woman dies her husband is not automatically entitled to his wife's Social Security benefits.

Despite what some may say, women will not lose any of their present Social Security benefits.

ERA will enhance the role of the homemaker, not downgrade it. For the first time, women will be given credit for their important non-monetary contribution to the marriage.

Recognition of the homemaker's contribution will benefit a woman by reducing her inheritance tax burden in the event of the death of her husband.

ERA will continue the trend toward reciprocity where financial support is provided by the person best able to, and is counter-balanced by the homemaker and child-raising activities.

It's custom, not law, that dictates that a homemaker be supported by her husband.

Many of the protective labor laws enacted at the turn of the century and designed to protect women from "sweat shops" now being used to keep women from career advancement.

ERA will eliminate these laws that discriminate against women, and those very laws that protect only women.

from long hours and harsh working conditions will be extended to men.

The Equal Rights Amendment will recognize that a marriage is a partnership and that both partners are entitled to share in the property acquired during marriage. The husband is no longer to be considered the sole owner of the household goods.

Married women will be able to manage their own separate property, such as earnings and inheritances.

The right to privacy, which provides for separation of sexes in public places like bathrooms, locker rooms and barracks, is constitutionally guaranteed.

The ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment will in no way affect their right of privacy.

Without a constitutional amendment, the process of changing existing laws is slow and haphazard.

There are laws, such as the Equal Employment Opportunity Act and the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, which have removed discrimination. But without a constitutional amendment, these laws could be erased.

At ratification of ERA, states will have two years to conform existing laws to the equality principle.

Although ERA will be the impetus for change, each state will still determine and administer its own policies.

Board to act 'Flipper Tail CG Break' Sunday on sewer easements

Actions necessary for construction to proceed for sanitary sewers in Nameki, Chouteau and Venice townships, will be undertaken by the Madison County Board Wednesday morning in the county courthouse at Edwardsville.

The board is to consider an ordinance authorizing the filing of condemnation proceedings for easements and lift station sites the county has been unable to obtain through negotiations.

A resolution also is to be presented requesting a permit from the Illinois Department of Transportation to proceed with some construction work affecting state highways.

The board also is to consider a resolution for demolition of some buildings in the Cloverleaf Addition, an ordinance establishing a rate of wages for laborers and mechanics doing work for the county, and a resolution to accept bids for summer uniforms for sheriff's deputies.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the board room of the courthouse.

STEREO TAKEN
A receiver, tape deck and speakers, all valued at about $785, were stolen from the home of David Pulley, 2027 Sherman Ave., between 6:30 p.m. Sunday and 1 a.m. Monday. Entry was gained through the rear door which had been broken and the house full of people, mostly strangers. Everyone left when he arrived.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL
Mrs. Nancy Deason, 23, of 2621 Iowa St., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:15 a.m. Sunday after being injured in an auto accident. She was suffering in a car at the time. She suffered an injury to her jaw.

IDENTIFIED IN PHOTO
A member of the Granite City Street Department work force of between 35 and 40 years ago which was the only person that could not be identified in an old photograph submitted by Street Superintendent Lionel Portell has been identified as Cyrell Cook, who worked with the department approximately 35 years before his death in 1955.

DISORDERLY CHARGE
Kenneth E. Richter, 33, of 1700 Minerva Ave., was charged with disorderly conduct at 10:20 p.m. Police said they were called to the Tip Top Tavern where they asked Richter to leave. Officers alleged they followed Richter to his car, but later saw he had returned to the tavern.

TRUCK CAB FIRE
Long Lake firemen were called at 6:45 a.m. Friday to the Puma Truck Plaza at Illinois Highway 111 and State Rd. 35 where the cab of a tractor trailer was on fire. No estimates of damage were made and firemen believe the cab was set on fire by igniting newspapers that were found inside of it.

CURRENCY STOLEN
Returning to her home early Saturday morning, Elizabeth Taylor, 2221 Rear Lee Ave., found the light in her room and heard a rear door slam as she entered. She said $50 in currency was taken.

Prompt, competent emergency help

To the Editor:
In the third chapter of the book of Ecclesiastes, the wise man Solomon said, "For everything there is an appointed . . . a time to keep quiet and to speak."

"The first sentence is the first statement of verse one; the second is that last sentence of the seventh verse — not that the intervening verses are not equally important. But they are not pertinent to my reason for writing this public forum to state some facts and ask a question.

Do we ever think of the Fire Department as emergency vehicles unless we hear that weird sound approaching from some direction? Perhaps not, but we are so preoccupied that we have to be urged vocally by the driver of the emergency vehicle to move out of the way.

Normally, most people don't think too much about that siren sound unless they are personally involved some way in that event.

It can become a clarion call, cutting out, as it were, "Help is on the way."

As Solomon said, there is a time to speak, so now is my time to speak.

In March, during the worst storm of the year, I found myself in a terrifying situation. The highway of just two lanes was abashed with ice and the blizzard was so heavy that visibility was about two car lengths.

My car suddenly went into a triple spin from one side of the highway to the other. Somehow, I was able to get control of the car, as well as myself so as not to panic.

About an hour after arriving home, I began having severe chest pains. I called for an ambulance from one of the neighbors and was told that it was doubtful that I would find an ambulance any place because of the many accidents taking place and the severity of the storm.

The person I was speaking to asked what kind of problem area I was in. I told him and he said he would call the city fire department.

The medication intended to control my pain was of no effect whatever.

Very soon, to my immense relief, I could hear approaching my home that wonderful sound, saying, "Help is on the way."

It was absolutely amazing to see in front of my trailer a huge fire truck. Then, suddenly, my living room seemed to be filled with men, handsome men who by their very presence gave assurance that they were not going to let anything worse happen to me if they could prevent it.

Unless you have been in a similar situation, you cannot know what a comfort it was to hear their expressions of understanding and sympathy.

They assured me that very soon an ambulance would arrive to take me to the emergency room at St. Elizabeth's. They were right. In about five minutes, I heard the approaching sound of the EMT unit that had taken me to St. Elizabeth Hospital for a brief period.

They then transferred me to Firmin Desloge Hospital with its new cardiac ICU.

I would love to list the names of those big, strong men who helped me cope with the pain, especially the EMT ambulance service, but it would not be fair to all the other equally competent men who are also as responsive to those in need of their services.

The outstanding point I wish to make is we owe them all an accolade.

To be sure, it is their job. But it is time to speak and pay tribute for service rendered.

It is wonderful to know they are there when they are needed. I am and always will be deeply grateful for their kindness and gentle concern.

Manipulation by federal government

To the Editor:
I have just come from the offices of Nameki Township where I have signed a paper releasing a portion of my property for the purpose of installing sewers in the area.

I have opposed the project for many reasons, some of which I would like to proclaim at this time.

I believe that by virtue of the area's geographical nature, there will be constant problems with the projects, resulting in never-ending expenses to the taxpayer such as maintenance and numerous little additions that invariably accompany projects of this nature.

Also, I object to the federal government forcing a "loan" upon me which I did not want.

The federal government makes it impossible for citizens to repay their so-called "loans."

Somewhere along the line they have forgotten their original purpose of involving the citizens in an effort to "clean up America," and have become a money-making, coercing and all too powerful force in our nation.

Finally, our local government's action in this project can easily be explained by the fact that they are simply being enticed and manipulated by the forces of higher government.

So, I have given what they have demanded from me, they cannot have what I would like most to give: my trust, my confidence and pride in my government.

Bike-a-thon helps young help others

To the Editor:
Thanks to the people of Granite City, my sons, Mark, age 10, and John, age 8, entered the diabetes bike-a-thon.

The boys recruited 35 sponsors who pledged to pay from five to 50 cents for each mile the boys could ride. They rode their small bicycles 21 miles.

They learned much: that people will contribute to a worthy cause.

They learned determination, and that it is possible to ride uphill against a strong wind.

They felt personal accomplishment, and learned that people follow through on their commitments.

Most of all, they learned responsibility, and they know what gaining trust is all about.

The citizens of Granite City have helped many others learn how wonderful life can be when a person is helping others.

Pressing on . . .

Mind-boggling Steve Allen

By DON FREEMAN

HOLLYWOOD — For 17 or 18 years, Steve Allen figures, he has endeavored to nudge the commercial networks into an appreciation of his program, notion called "Meeting of Minds."

Typically, Allen was always busy with other projects and every so often he would remember "Meeting of Minds," present it to a network executive and then, after yet another refusal, retreat.

"All of the networks saw audition tapes," Steve was saying the other day. "NBC, to begin with, wouldn't let me put on a 'Meeting of Minds' segment on my old comedy hour, years ago. In 1971 I had a syndicated show out of Hollywood. We put on a 'Meeting of Minds' and it showed locally, but the syndicator took it upon himself to clip it out when the show went out to other stations across the country."

"How we found out about it is another story. After the first showing in Los Angeles, the mail poured in like the bagful. We were geared for more mail nationwide and when it didn't come, we found out why. The rest of the country simply hadn't seen the segment. Our producer at the time had an inspiration — he submitted the 'Meeting of Minds' segment for a local Emmy that year and it won." Steve remembers how complimentary the network people were. "The man who CBS said, 'It's a fine show but where could we put it on when we would not get clobbered in the ratings?' He suggested 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoons. Then he said, 'No, it's too good for that time slot. Why don't you go over to PBS and they'll give it a good showcase.' And so we did."

The foregoing sets the scene for an extraordinary triumph and, in a sense, the vindication of Steve Allen's persistent efforts. A year ago, Allen's "Meeting of Minds" emerged on PBS, winning plaudits on every side.

"A title to rival," says Ira Gershwin once mused and, a year ago, I caviled that "Meeting of Minds" was an absolutely awful title, heavy-handed and intellectual, with an artifice and a heavily cerebral ring that might well dissuade viewers from looking in on the fireworks created by the characters. What I thought then, and still contend, is that those three words, "Meeting of Minds," does not suggest the rich lode of humor that Allen has achieved, the great sense of frolic you wouldn't ordinarily expect with such a lofty title. And a show is what it is — a show instead of a program, if I make my point.

This is a show for the populace. In other words, and it's dismaying that the commercial networks so casually permitted its defection to PBS.

In its second season, the show as conceived, written and hosted by Steve Allen remains a very stylish venture, with expertly chosen actors assuming historic guises. Allen has given them apt words to utter, many of those words a matter of historical record, and then the sparks fly.

As the confederate, Allen tosses in the questions to keep this brightest and rarest of talk shows in high gear. There is theme music to be composed and Allen does that as well. It is to Allen's vast credit that the script, with its easy flow, seems not to have been written at all. The dialogue strikes the ear as conversational overheard, some of it in bantering fashion.

Allen is assisted in this enterprise by his wife, Jayne Meadows, a fine actress-comedienne, and she can be very shrewd, as long as she is Cleopatra, for example, and then in another roundtable of substantial talkers, as Marie Antoinette. Invariably, she adds a special kind of enticing pepper to the conversation.

Football pros dig racquetball

You take a little hard rubber ball (green or black), a rather short and stubby racket, and a windowless room (20x40) and you box the ball around like an echo.

They call it racquetball, and they're right in one respect: The racket created from the whack, whack, whack against the walls is enough to drive anyone not playing to distraction.

It's the fastest-growing sport in the United States. Everybody is going after it — big boys, little boys, big and little girls, grandmas and grandpas, bankers and construction workers.

It's a way of keeping in shape, changing one's shape or just shaping up. There are a number of National Football League players who swear by it, at it and with it to stay in shape during the off season.

Of the 42 players who go together at Las Vegas Racquet Club recently, every one — to a man — calls it the "only" way to exercise.

"Racquetball has kept me in football three years beyond the time when I probably should have quit," said the St. Louis Cardinals' Jim Bakken. Bakken, a kicking specialist, is 37 and a veteran of 17 years in the NFL. His job (kicking field goals and extra points) doesn't seem that taxing.

"A kicker has to keep his legs in tune," said Bakken. "Racquetball strengthens the legs."

Bakken hasn't played racquetball that long, but he was the Greater St. Louis baseball champion a few years back.

"I like racquetball better than handball," Bakken said. "Perhaps I'm still using gas handball techniques, but it's working for me."

Bakken's right. He was one of the finalists in the $188,000 Coors All-Pro Tour.

The other pro football player to win was Earl Vanoh, wide receiver for the Green Bay Packers.

Vanoh is easily the best of the football players. He is so nimble he looks like an acrobat on the court. They call him "The Bug," and he looks a little like Jimmy Connors. He has the same build, the same confident smile and some of the same movements.

"I have been playing racquetball for only six months," Vanoh said after his Las Vegas victory. He had to beat Joe Thielenman, a recognized A player, and Matt Blair, another excellent player, to make the playoffs.

Vanoh might give up football altogether to get into racquetball full-time. He's that good. He has invested in a racquetball court in Brookline, Mass.

"Racquetball develops quickness and agility," Vanoh said. "I probably don't play it properly because I played a lot of handball, too."

Whatever he does, he does well.

Dr. Wm. Friedman honored

Dr. William H. Friedman, MD, chairman of the Department of Otolaryngology at St. Louis University School of Medicine, was presented the Ira J. Tresley Memorial Award in facial plastic surgery for outstanding original research with significant patient applicability by the American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery at the annual scientific meeting of the Academy in Palm Beach, Fla.

Dr. Friedman was born and reared in Madison where he attended Harris grade school. He is the son of the late Joseph Friedman, his mother Mrs. Lilly Mae Friedman, now resides in Clayton.

Dr. Friedman received the award for developing a new surgical technique which will enable plastic surgeons to measure wound tension in eyelid plastic surgery, and hopeful to avoid surgical complications involving wound healing.

The innovative measuring technique is designed to aid plastic surgeons in determining and predicting the suitability of patients for eyelid surgery, especially the older patient with sagging eyelids, and patients who have undergone previous surgery or experienced trauma to the eyelid.

Development of the technique represents more than five years of intensive clinical and laboratory research by Dr. Friedman.

The Ira J. Tresley Memorial Award was established in 1972 and is presented annually in honor of the late Ira J. Tresley, MD, former president of AAFPRS, 1969.

No award was presented in 1974, '75, or '76.

Concession stand is ransacked

A large glass counter top was broken inside the concession building at the West Granite City ball diamond on Rock Road, and a small refrigerator was moved from the building to the bleacher area, authorities discovered yesterday.

There were no signs of forced entry to the building. Merchandise in the concession counter was ransacked, but an inventory will be required to determine if anything was taken.

Blood was found on the refrigerator, indicating whoever was responsible may have cut himself on the broken counter.

14TH FIRE ILLNESS Granite City Patrolman Donald Petrillo, 22, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week for coughing and chemical bronchitis, the result of breathing fumes during Tuesday evening's fire at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He was not listed among the 13 persons who suffered smoke inhalation in the fire, since his symptoms did not appear that evening. He was released after treatment.

Wilson first graders to present play to PTA

"Mother Goose" has some colorful scenes and fine acting by the first graders, according to their teacher, Miss Susan Doty, and the students will be performing for the Wilson School Parent Teachers Association later this month. The first graders, under the direction of Miss Doty have presented the play to the children.

Members of the cast are: Eric Miller, Kim Morgan, Sheri Chandler, Gretchen Schultz, Buddy Vinson, Kathy Charter, LaNae Sager, Rich Dawes, Steven Williams, Jennifer Detwiler, Heather Dawson, Steven Willaredt, Chandra Smith.

Heather Miller, Valeria Stephens, Cindy Brown, Kim Whitehead, Jerry Lipchik, Steve Roaka, Sheri Dodara, Mike Miller, Melissa Vincent, Helen Parks, Jennifer Hookmouth and Kathy Cockrell.

During the performance at school, Little BoPeep (Kathy Charter) lost her bow, but the teacher stopped the play and came to the rescue and everything went smoothly thereafter.

Speech, hearing clinics offered

The Easter Seal Society of Southern Illinois and the Department of Speech Pathology and Audiology of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will conduct a summer speech, language and hearing program June 26 through Aug. 18 for area handicapped children and adults.

In an effort to serve as many children and adults as possible, two clinics will be established, one at the Easter Seal Center, 756 Central Ave., Alton, and the other at the SIUE Speech and Hearing Center in Edwardsville. Therapy will be conducted by qualified graduate students under the supervision of university personnel.

Children and adults in Southern Illinois interested in improving speech, developing and restoring language, and in acquiring more adequate communicative abilities, should make an appointment with Mrs. Dixie Engelman at the Speech and Hearing Center on the SIUE campus by calling 1-662-3662.

A small fee will be charged for services rendered. However, no one will be denied admission because of legitimate financial reasons, a spokesman said.

Lady of the Snows radio service to host National meet

Radio Information Service for the blind and handicapped, at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, will host the fourth National Conference on Radio Reading Services for blind and/or physically handicapped to be held in St. Louis today through Thursday.

RIS, under the direction of Jo Kathmann, will welcome the delegates to the Shrine the evening of Wednesday, May 17, for a tour of the grounds and the RIS facilities, followed by dinner and entertainment at the Shrine's restaurant.

The meeting is sponsored by the Association of Radio Reading Services (ARRS) with the cooperation of the American Foundation for the Blind. More than 150 professionals in the fields of services for blind and physically handicapped persons who operate or plan to establish radio reading services in their own communities are expected to attend.

Car windows broken

The auto of Steve Burnett, 2028 Illinois Ave., was forced off the roadway at 21st Street and Missouri Avenue Thursday by another car and occupants of that car then got out and broke all the windows in Burnett's auto.

Burnett and a passenger in the car, Paul Timmon, 2011 Missouri Ave., said they knew of no reason for the incident.

Phone cables vulnerable to spring gardeners

Call before you dig, advises Illinois Bell.

In the next few weeks a lot of people will be returning to the soil. They will be planting gardens, laying and repairing pipes and drains, sinking fence posts, and excavating for building purposes.

In the process, they will be digging up or cutting buried telephone wire and cable — cutting off communications and sometimes imperiling emergency services, according to K. L. Evers, Granite City Bell manager.

So Illinois Bell issues its annual advice to diggers: Call before you dig, he added. Illinois Bell has more than 39 million miles of buried cable and approximately 1.9 million underground service wires leading to homes. They are protected from the ravages of weather and animals, but they can be damaged by digging tools.

On the average of once every three hours, every day of the year, a digger damages an Illinois Bell cable or wire. However, the incidents are not spread out to conform to the average. They come mostly in spring, in a flood of damage reports.

Repairs cost the company about three-quarters of a million dollars a year, but in some cases Illinois Bell will bill the digger for the cost of repair. Contractors and home owners are advised to check the location of buried cable before breaking ground. To do this, Illinois Bell advises calling Repair Service. The number is listed in the call guide pages in the front of the directory.

The company will send out an employee to mark a cable's location. Illinois Bell engineers meet and consult with builders and contractors who are planning major jobs such as highways and housing developments.

The home digger should be especially careful to avoid digging up the buried phone cables and service wires that have generally replaced utility poles and aerial wires.

Make your call at least 48 hours before you intend to start digging. This gives the telephone company time to look up the necessary data and get it to you before you begin digging. Remember — the wire you dig up may be your own, Evers said.

Real estate brokers' exam

Starting in June this year, the Illinois real estate broker's state licensing exam will be written and administered by the American College Testing Service (ACT), it has been announced by the Illinois Department of Registration and Education.

The new licensing exam is designed to more accurately reflect the applicant's comprehension of real estate law and practices. Under the new testing system, state exam testing sites will be increased from two (Chicago and Springfield) to 20 statewide locations. Additionally, under the new ACT system, applicants are to receive their final exam results within 10 working days after taking their state licensing exam.

Evening courses for area residents who are interested in qualifying for the Illinois real estate broker's licensing exam are set to begin June 5 at the Howard Johnson's Motor Inn, Rt. 157 and I-55, Collinsville. Co-sponsored by the Illinois Association of Realtors, the courses will be presented by Real Estate Education Company.

Both 15-hour courses are approved for fulfilling the 30-hour course requirement for taking the Illinois real estate broker's licensing exam.

Advanced Real Estate Principles will meet from 6 to 8 p.m., and Contracts and Conveyances will meet from 8 to 10 p.m. Both courses will be conducted by Joe Kelleher, Edwardsville attorney. Classes for both courses will meet on Mondays for seven weeks and are staggered for those who choose to attend both courses. Pre-registration is required for the courses. For further information and registration Quad-Cityans may call Real Estate Education Company toll free at (800) 972-4582, or write to the company at 500 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, 60610.

Tax warrants are issued

The Namecki Town Board of Trustees last week sold a $20,000 anticipation warrant for the town fund and a $6,000 warrant for municipal retirement, to cover those funds for the remainder of the year.

The township highway department is operating under a $20,000 tax anticipation warrant obtained several weeks ago. Some figures in a previous article were in error.

How to get money out of your house without selling it.

You simply come to us for a real estate loan backed by your equity.

Equity is the difference between how much your home is worth, and what you owe on it.

It's a valuable asset you can use to back a really big loan. For whatever you have in mind.

Real estate values are up, up, up.

So the house you bought just a few years ago probably would sell for a lot more than you paid.

Which means your equity is bigger. And the bigger your equity, the more you can borrow in a large real estate loan. Right here. Right now.

So the equity in your house is like money in your pocket.

Call us. We've got your loan.

Two long-time Venice staff members announce retirement

Two long-time members of the Venice School District staff announced their retirements Thursday night at a meeting of the Venice Board of Education.

The resignation of two others also were accepted at the business session.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Dake, a member of the Venice faculty for 32 years, will retire at the end of the current school year. She started as a classroom teacher in social studies, and moved to the post of elementary school librarian in the mid-1960s.

Mrs. Dake has served as Venice school librarian for the past 10 years.

Mrs. Mary Sugg, head cook for the Venice School District, also will retire at the conclusion of this school year. She has been employed by the district for 22 years.

An open house honoring Mrs. Dake and Mrs. Sugg is being arranged by faculty members and others for May 24 at the school, between the hours of 3 p.m. and 4 p.m., it was announced.

Resignations were accepted from Annie Ruth Mosby and Teresa Reidelberger, Title VII aides. Mrs. Mosby has accepted a job with a private firm and Miss Reidelberger will return to college.

In other business, the board approved retaining Douglas & Associates Educational Consultants, Indianapolis, Ind., as the outside evaluator of the Title VII programs, a requirement for participation.

The appointment of board members to Venice district advisory groups was announced by Jack Tolliver, school board president.

John Boushard was named to the Joint Title I - Title VII Advisory Committee and Wilbert Glasper was appointed to the Vocational Advisory Committee.

Tolliver, who was elected last week to serve as president of Special Education Region I Advisory Board, will remain district representative to the board.

With parental permission, Venice school children may participate next school year in lead poisoning screening tests, sponsored by the Illinois Association for Retarded Children and local groups, the board decided.

Also approved was use of a district-owned bus to transport Venice, Madison and Granite City children to the Illinois Special Olympics, scheduled June 2 to 4, at Illinois State University at Normal.

Larry Dew, Special Education Region I director, said local school teachers and parents have raised funds to pay expenses for the bus and driver.

Between 34 and 38 local young people are expected to take part in statewide athletic event.

Teachers attend parenting seminar

Two teachers of Granite City High School South, Nancy Bridgeman and Cheryl Gertsch were among Madison County teachers attending and participating in the Illinois Adolescent Parenting Seminar in Peoria.

Madison County teachers attending included Amy Pascheag of Bethalto High School and Sandra Persons and Carolyn Hester of Collinsville High School.

The seminar focused on maternal and newborn health and provided resources and guidelines for program implementation. Workshop discussions to develop effective follow-up activities were conducted in small groups according to geographic districts.

Carolyn Hester and Sandra Persons gave a presentation about the Parents Utilize Prekindergarten Skills project, Title IV, ESEA, parenting course at Collinsville High School.

Retailers plan Wednesday program

Members of the Associated Retailers and Credit Bureau of the Tri-Cities are to meet Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant for a special motivational program for employees, it was announced by Burel Schmisser, vice president of the Associated Retailers.

He said the program will be entitled "You Pack Your Own Chute," an employee motivation film used to emphasize the fact that everyone has control of his own destiny and everyone has the ability to improve performance.

Carnival to run tonight

The special lighting fund to help finance the lighting of the South High sports complex has increased by more than $5,000 with proceeds from the seven-day carnival on the grounds north of Coolidge Junior High School.

In addition to the scheduled seven days, the carnival will operate again tonight.

The fund also was helped by operation of two stands which were manned by the Boosters of the Fighting Warriors and by the South High School Lettermen's Club.
